Gray Ladies Fill Needed Red Cross Role

The work of the Red Cross Gray Ladies has been a part of the service of the Hospital and Rec... n Corps for many years. At the Marion City hospitals the local Gray Ladies, one of the vol... er special services, assist the staff in many ways and perform innumerable services for the patients. In the above picture are shown two members of the local corps, Mrs. Arthur H Smith of 651 Cleveland avenue, left, delivering a letter to a patient, and Mrs. Lewis M. Kraft of 300 South State street, arranging flowers.

This is one of a series of stories telling about some of the services of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross. The series is published to aid in Marion county's part in the annual fund campaign. Sixty-five per cent of the contribution will remain in Marion county to carry on the chapter's work.

The historic American Red Cross "Gray Ladies' Corps is pushing toward its thirtieth birthday and its members are proud of it.

For in their 29 years of existence the members of this volunteer corps have built for themselves a special spot in the hearts of thousands of patients to whom they have brought cheer and comfort in federal and civilian hospitals.

In March, 1918, when wounded doughboys began coming back from France, the army medical authorities saw the need for a non-professional touch in their hospitals to keep the patients close to goings-on "outside." A group of volunteers was recruited from the District of Columbia Red Cross chapter to start a program of personal service and recreation for patients at Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C.

The volunteers adopted a uniform patterned after the gray dress worn by Florence Nightingale, and it didn't take the doughboys long to append the name that has existed ever since—the Gray Ladies.

As the Gray Ladies made a place for themselves at Walter Reed — shopping, letterwriting, teaching small crafts, and helping with recreation programs — word of their success spread and other federal hospitals asked for similar services. By 1936, certificates of training had been issued to 983 Gray Ladies. Since 1942, and through the war period to the present, the Hospital and Recreation Corps—of which the Gray Ladies are an integral part—has mushroomed to 40,000 workers who are now serving 1,217 federal and civilian hospitals. Their duties have grown with the corps.

In Marion, there have been three classes of Gray Ladies formed and trained under the direction of the Marion County Chapter. Seventy women have qualified for membership in the corps, however, the actual number of volunteers has been considerably reduced due to some moving from the community and others have been lost due to sickness or death in the immediate family.

The duties of our Gray Ladies at the City hospital have been many and varied, such as serving at the information desk, distributing mail, magazines, and library books. They have arranged flowers and cared for the plants in the sick-rooms; have written letters and put through phone calls for the patients, and read to them if requested. They also assisted in making supplies, marking and counting linens, have assisted with office and clerical work, and in emergencies have taken care of the elevator and switch board services.

Their services have been gratefully received. The Gray Ladies have attempted to relieve the regular nurses of many small tasks in the days of over-crowded conditions and resultant increase of work for the staff.

During the past year the Gray Ladies gave 8911/2 hours of service at the City hospital. The chairman of their Corps is Mrs John P. Courtright and Mrs. Rex Kilbourn is the vice chairman.

"RED BAITING" LAID TO SENATE

CIO Executive Accuses Taft and Ball of Communist Witch-Hunt.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Top officers of the CIO United Electrical Workers today flatly denied Communist membership and accused the senate labor committee of red-baiting.'

Three leaders of the union, headed by Albert J. Fitzgerald, president, flared back at questions by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Ball (R-Minn) with protests against "innuendo" and "lies and slander."

Fitzgerald, after testifying that he was against barring "Communists, Socialists, Democrats, Republicans or anyone else" from union membership for reasons of "race creed or political belief," snapped as he rose to leave:

I have seen one of the finest examples of red-baiting here this morning. We came here to testify on labor legislation—"

Taft interrupted him. "—and you failed to do so, Mr. Fitzgerald. You havn't discussed anything that is before the committee."

"We had been on our testimony only two minutes," Fitzgerald rejoined "when you injected the Communist issue."

Doesn't See Communism

Ball asked the union president whether he regarded James J. Matles, the union's secretary-treasurer, and Julius Emspak, director of organization, as Communists or Communist sympathizers. Fitzgerald said he did not, and suggested the committee ask the officers directly.

Matles, next to be called, was greeted with the question point-blank.

"I do not happen to be one," he said firmly. He denied belief in Communist doctrines, as well, and under a barrage of questions said he had never been a Communist at any time in his life.

Emspak, the next witness, promptly volunteered: "Before you ask the question, the answer is no."

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers, called Ball's bill to prohibit industrywide collective bargaining "a hysterical proposal."

Says Government Out of Place

On the other side of the Capitol William J. Grede, president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association told the house labor committee that "the federal government has no place in the employer-employe relationship."

Grede from Milwaukee, is president of Grede Foundries, Inc.

Under questioning by Senator Ball, Fitzgerald said he would not be in favor "of any legislation, in unions or in government, which would deprive any individual of freedom of thought or belief."

Fitzgerald was flanked as he

Trigger Man in Canton Murder Up for Parole

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—Pat McDermott, convicted trigger man in the slaying of Don Mellett, crusading Canton editor, in 1927, has become eligible for a commutation hearing and may receive his hearing in March.

State pardon and parole commission officials reported that all information and records needed for a hearing had not been gathered yet but they should be completed in the next few weeks. The case was advertised for hearing in January, the commission said.

Mellett, editor of the Canton Daily News, was slain as he stepped from his automobile in his home driveway while he was conducting a crusade against gangsterism.

Township School Merger Plan Set for Kirkpatrick Meeting

Special to The Star

KIRKPATRICK, Feb 27 — A mass meeting to discuss the proposed consolidation of the Caledonia, Scott township and Tully township schools will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium here.

The meeting will be attended by residents in the Caledonia, Scott and Tully township school districts and the proposal would provide for construction of a new school building centrally located in the three communities.

The proposed merger, according to Marion County School Superintendent D. T. Mills, would bring about the following.

Create a school district with the greatest area and largest enrollment in Marion county.

Create a district wealthy enough to build and operate a modern school plant and program well within the ability to pay.

Provide a complete educational program for less money than the total which the three districts are now paying while operating separately.

Provide a program adequate to maintain vocational agriculture and vocational home economics departments both subsidized by state and federal funds, and in which funds, small schools find it almost impossible to participate.

Have an enrollment of about 436. This number of students backed by the combined total wealth of the three districts would make possible many things now impossible. Primary and elementary schools would have single grades or sections of grades. In junior and senior high schools, teachers would operate wholly in the subjects for which they are qualified.

According to state law, Mr. Mills explained, such mergers may take place on even years, which would mean that the county board of education must adopt a plan of reorganization on or before the first Monday in February, 1948, if the merger is to be put into effect next year. After the county board adopts the reorganization plan it must be advertised for two consecutive weeks, but not later than the third Saturday after its adoption. Any group of electors in the school districts involved, prior to the second Monday in March following the adoption, may file a protest to the merger. If 51 per cent or more of the electors file such a protest, the issue is killed.

Present enrollment in the three schools is 436, which includes 244 at Caledonia, 66 at Scott township and 126 at Tully township.

ENFORCEMENT AGENT SUMMONED BY BOARD

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb 27—A liquor enforcement agent who contends his signature was forged to an inspection report of a local private club was summoned today before the state board of liquor control.

The board, in its fourth day of an investigation of the issuance of private liquor permits here, was to hear agent Edward J Vilt testify on the alleged forgery.

The report, Vilt told reporters last night, was on the Famous Cherry Pickers club here.

"I positively did not sign that report," Vilt declared. "I filled out the first two or three lines of the questionnaire before I was called off the job and assigned to something else. The next time I saw the report, it had my name signed to it."

Club Permit Revoked

In a session ending at midnight the private club permit of the Carlton club of Cleveland was revoked by the board.

Max M. Zelodec, who identified himself as manager of the Carlton club, testified that the club's application for the permit was prepared in a local attorney's office and that the minutes were typed there by a stenographer "from a set of old minutes."

CO. TEACHERS ACT TO PRESS FOR SCHOOL AID

Plan "March" to Columbus Contingent on Friday Talk with Gov. Herbert.

Marion county school teachers yesterday took two steps to urge adoption of the state school financial program of the Ohio Education association now before the state legislature.

At a meeting in the common pleas courtroom in the courthouse yesterday afternoon attended by 60 members of the Marion County Teachers' association tentative plans were made to send a large delegation to Columbus next week to appear before the legislature in behalf of the school program. All 13 county schools were represented.

Later in the day the legislative committee of the county association made plans for an interview with Governor Herbert at 11:15 a. m. Friday. The committee is composed of Edward Howell of the Caledonia school, Robert Thomas of the Pleasant Township school, and A. B. Augenstein of the Claridon school. The committee will ask the governor for a definite statement regarding his attitude toward the proposed program.

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Howell will be the only members of the committee to meet with the governor. They will be accompanied by D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools.

Want Definite Statement

Mr. Thomas said today there was a possibility the trip next week might not be made. "We want a definite and specific statement from the governor that he is in favor of the program," Mr. Thomas said. "If we get this Friday it is quite likely the trip next week will be called off," he added.

A definite date for the trip to Columbus was not set but Monday or Tuesday of next week were considered as tentative dates.

A resolution declaring the teachers' intent to make the trip and setting forth its purpose was adopted at the meeting.

According to the plans adopted at the meeting, the teachers will first seek the approval of the local boards of education before making the trip. A legislative committee was appointed by the group to determine the proper date and to seek cooperation from teachers' groups from other counties and school systems.

Opposed To Strike

Melvin Bernow, president of the association, said the teachers were unanimously opposed to the idea of striking or closing the schools to gain their objective. He said they were of the opinion that this would be unfair to the various boards of education who have made the utmost effort to meet the financial situation of the schools and teachers. It was revealed at the meeting that many of the boards had already written members of the general assembly urging greater support to schools. The teachers further recommended that others interested in the schools contact members of the legislature and urge a like effort from the state.

In a statement today Mr. Bernow made it clear the Marion county teachers' movement was in no way to be identified with an anonymous group of Ohio teachers who are attempting to promote a statewide march on the legislature. Mr. Bernow said he did not know the identity of the leaders of this group. "They favor striking to gain their demands," he said, adding that "the Marion county teachers are opposed to these methods."

Indecision regarding the date of the proposed trip is due to the fact it is not definitely known when the other group plans its march on the capital. The Marion county teachers will attempt to select another date to avoid the risk of being identified with the anonymous group, Mr. Bernow said.

Reason for Trip

In a statement amplifying the reasons for the trip, Mr. Bernow said it was the intention of the teachers to lend their support to the education association program which calls for additional state aid to public schools. The program, drafted earlier in the winter, calls for higher salary schedules in all schools.

The legislature has been considering the program in committee hearings for several weeks.

In seeking approval of the various boards of education for the trip Mr. Bernow said the teach-

Treasurer's Office Open Extra Hours Two Days

In addition to its regular hours the Marion county treasurer's office will be open Friday from 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. and on Saturday until 3 p. m. to enable taxpayers to make their first half of 1946 real estate tax payments before the deadline Saturday.

The treasurer's office now is open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily through the noon hour. Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin said there would be no extension of the deadline.

Fourth U. S. Antarctic Jaunt Called 'Very Much a Success'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Representing the Combined American Press

ABOARD U. S. S. MOUNT OLYMPUS, Feb 27—The fourth American expedition exploring the mysteries of the Antarctic has been "very much a success" both in discoveries and in Polar training for the navy, Rear Adm. Richard H. Cruzen said tonight as the flagship began her long journey home over a fog-veiled sea.

The Mount Olympus and the Burton Island are steaming toward New Zealand with their work finished, and Cruzen declared "the time is getting short" for further flights by the eastern or western wing groups.

Adm. Nimitz, in a message to the task force, said,

"The chief of naval operations congratulates Task Force 68 on its achievements and the determined manner in which it overcame all obstacles to these achievements. Your experience and training in operations in polar weather are a great asset to the naval service."

Cruzen, the task force chief, said naval personnel on the expedition got a "real insight into the type of problems you have to risk in Polar regions and that was the primary objective—to find out what our problems are."

Invaluable navigational experience was obtained in forcing through the icepack, which scarcely could be tougher. All ships, despite thin hulls, were brought through successfully, although the Merrick lost a rudder and other vessels suffered minor damage. Cruzen said the damage was less than he had expected.

In aviation exploration, Cruzen said, "one of the most surprising things was the ability of seaplanes to operate in the open sea from seaplane tenders which had been built only to service seaplanes inside sheltered harbors."

Poetical Tribute To 3 Explorers Found by Cruzen

By ALTON W. BLAKESLEE

ABOARD THE U. S. MOUNT OLYMPUS, Feb. 27—A copper tube, corroded green from 30 years of exposure to the Polar elements, has yielded a tribute written in memory of three Britons who perished on Sir Ernest Henry Shackleton's expedition of 1914-1917.

The corked tube, containing a message in ink, was found last week at a McMurdo sound site by Rear Adm. Richard H. Cruzen, who brought it back with him. The lines were penned to the memory of two members of the expedition—Mackintosh and Hayward—who were lost when ice broke up while they were making a trip between two capes, and Rev. Spencer-Smith, who died on a trial trip.

Adm. Cruzen found the tube near a camp site used by famed explorer Capt. Robert Scott in 1910-1912. Scott perished while returning from a sled trip to the South Pole.

But the Scott camp was eight miles south of the later Shackleton Camp, and Adm. Cruzen said it was a mystery how the tube happened to be lying on the snow near the Scott camp.

The unsigned message said:

"Sacred to the memory, 1914-1917, of Lt. Aeneas Lionel A. Mackintosh, R.N.R., V. G. Hayward, the Rev. A. P. Spencer-Smith, B.A., who perished in the service of the expedition.

"Things done for gain are naught,
"But great things done endure.

"I should hate that death bandaged

Eight Japs Formally Accused of Making "Hellship" Possible

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Feb. 27—Allied headquarters' legal section formally accused eight Japanese today of responsibility for a "hellship" voyage from Manila to Japan during which more than 1,300 of the 1,619 prisoners aboard perished.

"No cases can compare with the torment and torture suffered by our soldiers aboard the Oryoku Maru, Brazil and Enoura Maru on the voyage from Manila to Japan in December, 1944 and January, 1945," Alva C. Carpenter, chief of the legal section, said.

The Japanese loaded 30 Allied national and 1,589 American prisoners—1,100 of them officers mostly of field grade rank—from Bilibid prison in Manila into three holds of the Oryoku Maru, the legal section said. "This is what happened after the prison ship set out for Japan.

Allied planes attacked. A direct bomb hit killed 100 men, and the ship was abandoned. But even as the prisoners fought to save themselves, guards sprayed the holds with machine gun fire and poured bullets at men who had reached rafts.

Survivors were assembled at San Fernando, Philippine Islands. Wada and Toshino asked for the 15 sickest men to be hospitalized in Manila. Instead, the men were driven to a cemetery where they were bayoneted and decapitated.

Among the group executed at the cemetery in the Philippines were Lt. John W. Elliott, Wooster, Ohio.

HOUSE PUSHES BILL TO BAN PORTAL PAY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 27 — A powerful combination of the Republican house majority and most southern Democrats mustered forces today behind a bill to outlaw portal-to-portal pay suits.

The house—setting the stage for the first congressional showdown on labor legislation since the G.O.P. election victory — ordered five hours of debate, beginning shortly after noon.

A final vote will be delayed, however, until sometime Friday after efforts have been made to write modifying amendments into the measure.

But although the decision will be delayed, the outcome appeared a certainty. Both the house judiciary committee in drafting the bill and the rules committee in sending it to the floor gave it an overwhelming majority.

The chief fight centers around a provision which would give employers the right to claim they acted in "good faith," on the basis of past orders in court or administrative regulations, as a defense against suits brought under the nation's wage and hours laws.

The suits total in the neighborhood of $5,765,000,000.

Five dissenting Democrats on the judiciary committee challenged the "good faith" clause with this query: "Why do not the proponents of the bill honestly say they want to kill the fair labor standards act?"

Other sections of the measure would (a) prohibit suits to recover pay for any "activities" except those carried on by employes under formal or implied agreements, (b) set up a one-year limitation on back pay suits, (c) permit out-of-court settlements provided there was no "fraud or duress" and (d) reduce from double damages to the actual overtime involved the amount that could be paid in any judgment.

SUGGESTS OHIO RESCIND BAN

Tells Senate Committee Move Would Lift Morale of Department.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—State Liquor Director Stanley R. Cofall recommended today that the state liquor control board rescind its ban on gambling in liquor establishments.

This move, he told the senate investigating committee, would increase the morale of state liquor enforcement agents who spend considerable time campaigning against such devices as slot machines and pin ball machines.

"Some types of gambling devices," he testified, "have been legalized by political subdivisions (cities).

"This makes it embarrassing to the department."

The director suggested that enforcement of anti-gambling laws could well be left to police departments and sheriffs.

Morale Termed "Spotty"

Cofall said he found the morale of state liquor department employes "spotty" when he became director Jan. 13. Replying to questions from the five committee members, he said the insecurity of provisional appointments (usually for 90 days) created difficulties among the employes.

Earlier he had testified that of 1,524 employes in his department, 938 were provisionals. He said 531 were under civil service and that 15 were unclassified.

Senator Raymond E. Holderbrand of Toledo interrupted to support Cofall's suggestion for abolition of the liquor board's anti-gambling regulation.

State liquor department officials, Cofall continued, are having "considerable trouble" trying to employ enough personnel to "operate this huge business."

Salaries Not Attractive

The salaries, he explained, are not attractive, and added that adjustments in wages would help attract sufficient personnel.

Surrounded by a half-dozen members of his staff, Director Cofall read figures disclosing that while gross sales of liquor by the state have risen rapidly, net profits have not kept pace.

Total sales, he testified, were $139,326,958 in 1946, as compared with $74,953,371 in 1943.

Net profits for last year were estimated by Cofall at $14,386,428. The 1943 net profits were $13,156,779.

Cofall pointed out that the net profit for 1944 was $14,822,302, although gross sales that year totalled only $106,471,009.

Salaries paid department employes, he explained, rose from $2,586,542 in 1943 to $3,375,697 in 1946. In the same period the money paid distillers for liquor rose from $856,336,584 to a 1946 total of $111,804,301.

Hits Physical Setup

Most of Cofall's early testimony was directed at the physical setup within the liquor department. He said the department did not have enough room. He particularly mentioned the hearing room used by the board of liquor control as "not conducive to good business."

Former Liquor Inspector Edmund E. Schuster, of Perrysburg, was the committee's first witness last week in the investigation. He reiterated charges he made when resigning recently that the department was no place for an honest man to work.

Edmund E. Tharp, former state liquor stores supervisor and a witness Monday, declared the "state liquor monopoly" should be terminated.

First reaction to Tharp's testimony came last night in a comment by Sen. Kyle F. Brooks (R-Hamilton).

"In my opinion I think he (Tharp) should be recalled before the committee to explain his position," Brooks said.

He referred to a pamphlet, signed by the former liquor official, attacking the monopoly system.

A further development in the already explosive situation was a report by the Toledo Times that the senate committee was investigating a charge that three state liquor inspectors "hijacked" 57 cases from a truckload of confiscated liquor Dec. 11 at Van Wert, O.

The Times said the truck driver, a Chicagoan, had filed an affidavit with the liquor department and repeated the charge at a hearing before state liquor officials after state agents seized a $23,000 liquor load from a truck camouflaged with Christmas trees at Van Wert.

NEWARK LEAD VITAL IN PROBE

Cat-and-Mouse Game with Sugar Stamp Counterfeiters Began at Ohio City.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., Feb. 27—Federal agents began a cat-and-mouse game here two months ago with the suspected operators of a black market in counterfeit and stolen sugar stamps.

The agents announced today that two Newark men supplied the first information which led to indictment Tuesday by a federal grand jury in Chicago of 26 individuals which the government said netted $500,000.

Among those indicted at Chicago were George and Paul Mills, two Newark truckers, and Bloom Brunner, operator of a wholesale grocery supply house in Mt. Vernon and a former Newark grocer.

Newark authorities said the first "break" came with the appearance of the Mills brothers, whose custody was kept a closely-guarded secret. Agents hid in the Mills' double house here for four days and wired the residence with voice recorders to trap the key figures.

The Chicago operator suspected of sending stamps into Ohio to get sugar for trucking by the Mills brothers to Chicago for sale to bakeries and confectionaries never made the expected visit to the Newark house.

The cat-mouse game paid off Jan. 9 when Vance Bridgeforth of Chicago came to Columbus with stamps in answer to a telephone request from one of the Mills brothers. Bridgeforth was taken off an airliner and had 20,000 counterfeit sugar stamps in his possession.

MORE STEEL MARKED FOR BOXCAR FIRMS

(More about boxcar shortage on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

New effects of the nation's long-building shortage of railroad freight carriers were reported today after steel producers promised to allocate more steel to building of new cars.

Industrial and railroad spokesmen agreed that the shortage was a long-term problem that would not be solved immediately.

Meanwhile, shipments of fuel oil, newsprint, coal, grain, lumber, farm produce, manufactured products and raw materials were held up at various points because boxcars, gondolas, and tank cars were insufficient to carry all the tonnage.

The latest step toward relief was made in Washington yesterday. Senator Reed (R-Kas) said that major steel companies had agreed to furnish enough steel to build 10,000 new freight cars monthly. However, the new goal, Reed said, would not be reached until about June.

Some railroads announced they were cooperating in a plan to move freight over a Northern Buffalo-Minneapolis St. Paul route to avoid the congested Chi-

Ministers Weigh Four-Power Pact

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 27 — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today that he and the foreign ministers of U. S., France and the Soviet Union would discuss at Moscow a four-power pact to prevent any new aggression in Europe.

Initiating a house of commons debate on foreign policy, Bevin said he was not sure that Germany, even after defeats in two great wars, knew the real meaning of defeat and recognized the stupidity of war as an object of policy.

Only four-power agreement, he said, will make it possible to curb Germany and to re-educate her in the ways of democracy.

"There is no other way," he declared, but he added that Britain "should not expect too much from us at Moscow" because "we have terrific difficulties to face."

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text: "That I may know Him, and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His sufferings, being made conformable unto His death." Philippians 3:10.

THE Book of Job is in form a dramatic poem. It is probably the oldest of the Bible writings. It was certainly written before the giving of the law.

The account of the suffering of this Holy man is indeed of interest to us all, in that the Scripture informs us that "He was a man;" a man such as you or I; a man who was wealthy in material means, but suffering in physical, mental and religious experience. Job's suffering was known by God. The burden was a heavy one for this man to bear. He could not understand the reason why. So it was that the painful plea of this suffering man of God was proclaimed: "O that I knew where I might find Him." (Job 23.3).

Job learned to know God better in his suffering. Tribulation worketh patience, and patience hope.

New hope may be yours in this lenten season as you see the suffering Savior, and recognize the power of His resurrection. In the words of Job may you proclaim: "I know that my Redeemer liveth." (Job 19:25).

YOUR INCOME TAX

Filling Out Form W-2

(This is the fourth of 12 stories explaining who must do what about filing an income tax return.)

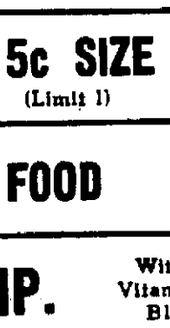
By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—You're making your 1946 income tax return on form W-2, the withholding statement.

That's the receipt the boss gives you for taxes withheld from your wages or salary in 1946. He must give it to you.

If you worked for more than one boss who withheld tax from you, get a form W-2 receipt from each.



James Marlow

You can't, without all the receipts, make a return on form W-2. Without them all, you'll have to use form 1040.

When you have them all, attach them to the form W-3 receipt from your last boss.

That last one is the one you fill out and file. Don't fill out the others.

Don't Send Money

And—don't send money with it when you fill it out and mail it to the internal revenue collector.

He'll check it. If you owe him money, he'll notify you. After he notifies you, you have 30 days to pay.

You'll get a refund if, in checking your return, he finds too much tax was withheld from you in 1946.

Husbands and wives don't have to worry about filing jointly or separately if they both had 1946 income and can use form W-2 as a separate or joint return.

They don't lose either way. When he gets their joint or separate returns, the collector by law must figure out which way is cheaper for them.

Will Send Refund

If he finds there's any refund due them, he'll send it to them.

The form W-2 you get from your boss is in "original" and "duplicate." Fill in the "original" and send it to the collector. Keep the "duplicate."

On the "original" the boss has written your name and address, his name and address, the amount of money he paid you, and the tax withheld.

That's all on the front of the "original." You don't do anything on the front. Except to be sure your name and address are right.

Turn it over. You answer simple questions on the back.

Here's how:

Say you're married and have two children. Your income was $4,800 from salary. (Your children had income under $500 but a dependent's income under $500 doesn't count, so forget it.) But your wife had income of $95 in dividends from stock.

On line No. 1 you write your salary: $4,800. On line No. 2 you write your wife's $95 from dividends.

Adding them up, you write the total, $4,895, on line No. 3.

You write your wife's name on line No. 4, where it asks you to. (Your name, written by the boss, already is on the front.)

Then, underneath that, where it asks, write your income, $4,800, and, right beside it your wife's income $95.

Underneath that where it asks, write your occupation.

Now move across to where it tells you to list your exemptions.

Poor Man's Philosopher Loves Wealthy Horse

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

HIALEAH RACETRACK, Feb. ... never thought I would fall ... ve with a racehorse.

... thought that was an aberra... enjoyed only by crumbling ... white - haired Kentucky ... els who made up their track ... by posing hand-in-hand ... mint juleps for the whisky ...

... here I am head-over-heels ... about a horse, crazy as lit... boy blue over ... little toy dog.

Hal Boyle

The horse is ... Armed, ... he is the ... sweetest thing on ... that ever ... in circles. ... timers can ... have their pac... Dan Patch, ... middle times are ... welcome to Man-O-War. I'll take ... Armed—on a wet or dry track.

The people who hang out at ... racecourses have a lot of reasons ... thinking this six-year-old ... campaigner is the greatest gelding ... that ever lived. They point out ... he has been in the money in ... out of 44 starts. They say if ... wins at Santa Anita in California next Saturday, he may pick up enough change to pass Whirlaway's record and become the greatest money-maker of all time.

Love Scorns Money

But I don't care about his Dun and Bradstreet rating. My affection isn't even based on the $2.50 he has won for me in two races, because that isn't even chicken feed in Florida. The chickens here won't even peck at anything smaller than a $10 bill.

No, I just go for the way Armed runs. You don't have to be a race track fan to get a thrill out of this little brown horse with the long black tail. Twice I watched him come in first, and each time he gave me the spinal shivers you get from reading a line of good poetry or watching a line of marching soldiers.

Armed has personality as well as speed. He has the best head on a horse's body since Chiron, the wisest centaur, pounded the hills of Thessaly.

I stood next to Mrs. Doug Dodson, wife of the man up on Armed in the $50,000 Widener Handicap last Saturday, and learned that a jockey suffers much less than his watching frau during a race.

All Began With Armed

Mrs. Dodson is about convinced that horse racing really began in America only when Armed first went to the post.

"He's wonderful," she said. "He's terrible strong and only Willie"—apparently her pet name for Doug—"can really handle him.

"Armed isn't temperamental though. Nothing bothers him. He always knows what he is doing."

Then somebody yelled "they're off." And Mrs. Dodson—a pretty dignified woman who knew, she would get to go to California with her husband if Armed won—began jumping up and down like a pogo stick shouting:

"Come on, Willie! Come on, Willie!"

And "Willie" did, riding almost straight up in his stirrups. Armed, who usually worries the bettors by hanging back a little at the start, took a quick lead. The horses were a blur on the back stretch, and Armed still led on the last turn.

Whipping down the home stretch he sped in muscled rhythmic beauty. He ran effortlessly and daintily, his heavy chest and body almost floating, his legs churning the dust in light delicate thrusts like notes of music.

As he streamed over the finish line with a new track record I could almost see my $5 on his nose and the $1.25 profit riding on the end of the glossy black tail feathering the air like a victorious banner.

As Armed strolled off the track he stuck out his tongue for his share of the $50,000 purse—the two lumps of sugar he usually gets for winning.

There in the grandstand I wanted to do something more for him—throw bucket after bucket of champagne over him. That seemed the only fitting way to cool off this equine greatness. You wouldn't want to use tap water on a $459,775 horse.

ERIE JOINS IN RAIL CREDIT TRAVEL PLAN

Charge It Arrangement To Be Effective April 1.

The Erie Railroad has joined with 40 other railroads in inaugurating a travel-and-charge-it plan which will become effective April 1, it was announced today by R. B. Rogers, Erie passenger traffic manager.

The travel credit plan to be adopted is based on suggestions made in a poll of 20,000 business concerns by the railroads last summer.

Under the plan one credit card will cover railroad, Pullman and parlor car tickets on all of the participating railroads. In the event the traveler is using railroads not covered by the plan, the credit card can still be used providing the trip starts on one of the forty railroads.

The credit cards will be issued to both individuals and companies upon application to the Rail Travel Credit Agency set up by the railroads with Mr. H. W. Siddall as chairman. The offices of the agency are 436 Union Station, Chicago, Ill.

"For more than a year," Mr. Rogers said, "the railroads have been discussing methods for making travel easier and more convenient. This credit plan will help to do it. It requires no deposit, service charge or red-tape but works like a department store charge account. The traveler merely presents his card at the ticket office of one of the participating railroads, signs a receipt and gets his ticket. He will be billed monthly."

13 Applications Read At Meeting of Grange

Two members were reinstated and 13 applications for membership were balloted on at a recent meeting of Grand Prairie Grange. An announcement was made that the next meeting will be Monday, March 3, instead of Tuesday, due to the Salt Rock-Grand Prairie Farmers' Institute to be held March 4-5.

The following program was presented; song, "Old Glory," by the group; reading by Mrs. E. V. Dean; poem by Mrs. D. W. Hinamon; piano solo by Miss Lauretta Pimberton; playlet by Mrs. Erma Kelly and Mrs. William Burley; poem by Mrs. Edith Hinamon; and a saxophone solo by Miss Mary Alice Linn. All members of the Grange whose birthdays are in January, February and March, with Miss Louise Hinamon as chairman, will be in charge of the program at the next meeting.

Calvary Church Plans For Preparatory Classes

Preparatory classes for church membership were planned at a recent meeting of the class leaders of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church. The classes will be held in conjunction with the Sunday evening and Wednesday services of the church beginning at 7:30, March 9, it was announced. Rev. R. W. Faulkner, the pastor, will speak on the following subjects for the consecutive date, Sunday, March 9, "Do You Believe?"; Wednesday, March 12, "Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit"; Sunday, March 16, "What Is It To Be a Christian?"; Wednesday, March 19, "The Christian Church" and Loyalty and Stewardship"; Sunday, March 23, "Believe and Be Baptized and Wednesday, March 26, "The Conversion Experience."

Following each lecture there will be a time for discussion in which questions may be asked from the audience, it was stated. These services are open to the public. All who desire to unite with the church on Easter Sunday will meet in conference with the pastor and class leaders on March 26, at 7:30 p. m.

REDS

testified by two of his top aides, James J. Matles, director of organization, and Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the union.

Asks About Communism

Ball wanted to know whether Fitzgerald regarded these two union officials as "Communist sympathizers."

"No, I do not," Fitzgerald shot back.

Ball said: "You are aware they are generally regarded as such."

"I understand you have that belief, Senator," the husky union leader retorted. He added that it was because of Ball's "bitterness" that members of the union had opposed his re-election.

Then Fitzgerald shouted: "Do you want to ask me whether I am a Communist? I am not!"

The committee is holding general hearings on the question of enacting new labor laws. Fitzgerald contended that all proposed labor legislation is "injurious" to workers and "aimed directly at the food on their tables and clothes on their backs."

He singled out for special attention a bill by Senator Ball to outlaw industry wide bargaining, calling it "another legislative effort to stack the cards against workers that can only result in industrial chaos."

Then he said: "All bills under the broad heading of labor legislation that are being pushed for adoption are injurious to employes. x x x No camouflage of argument, no matter how plausible sounding, can win their forgiveness for the congressmen who will raise his hand to take food and clothing from their children."

Declaring that ever since workers started building industrial unions "employers have cried 'Communist' at them," Fitzgerald added:

"The attacks of this sort against the United Electrical Workers have been particularly heavy because the UE x x x has been particularly effective in winning better wages for the workers of the industry."

An audience which practically filled the clubroom of GI Post No. 583, American Legion, Wednesday night saw movie views of action in Europe, Japan and other World War II sectors, learned about malaria, saw travel pictures and numerous other subjects dealing with the recent war, in the first of a series of combat pictures being shown under sponsorship of the post and the local Army Recruiting office.

Interest was increased when a number in the audience identified a former Marion veteran, Charles B. Short of Springfield, who lived on Orchard street here, in one of the films. Short was one of two veterans chosen to talk for the Army film production on his experiences as a prisoner of war. He told of being captured on Dec. 19, 1944 in the Battle of the Bulge, after which he and other prisoners numbering 60 were marched a distance of 40 miles and later herded in a boxcar where they spent eight days enroute to a prison camp. They were given a small slice of bread and sometimes a drink of water as travel rations. During his five months of imprisonment he and his fellow prisoners were "always hungry," he related in the talkie.

The films are being shown through cooperation of Capt. A. L. Stevens Jr., and Sgt. Claire H. Oberdier of the local Army recruiting office, George Hildebrandt, service officer of the post and a committee headed by Gerald R. Messenger. Another film will be shown next Wednesday night at 8. Because of the limited seating capacity the attendance is restricted to adults.

"Sheppy" has suffered a broken right hind leg on two occasions when he was run over by a tractor. The leg is slightly stiff, but doesn't hinder his running. Mr. Mautz maintains that he and "Sheppy" make a good pair. Mr Mautz himself is 80 years old.

At least two other dogs in Marion county fall into the canine centenarian class. Both are 20 years old One is a brown and white male fox terrier owned by Mrs. Ella Cunningham of 883 Bennett street The other is a brown and white male shepherd owned by E J Lust of route 2 Prospect.

According to records at the Marion county auditor's office there are two 18-year-old dogs in the county. One is a wire haired terrier and the other a fox terrier.

At least six other dogs in the county are 17 years old. They include a beagle, a bull, a terrier, a hound, a shepherd and one just plain dog Eight others, seven of them terriers, and one part shepherd and part chow, are 16 years old.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Inducing Patient To Eat

For years many efforts have been made to find a cure for people who drink too much. Many methods have been employed. Persuasion, mental treatment, exercise, drugs to produce vomiting and others to quiet nerves, have all been used but none has proved universally successful.

In spite of everything, some people retain their craving for alcohol and would anytime, as the saying goes, "rather drink than eat."

Now we have a promising new treatment which seems to owe its effectiveness to the fact that it makes the alcoholic feel that he would rather eat than drink. Nearly half of the patients so treated have been able to give up alcohol at once, without any tapering off

The new treatment consists of injections of insulin Insulin is a substance formed in the pancreas It speeds up the body's consumption of sugar in the blood stream For this reason it has been for years now a life-saver for diabetics, who do not form enough insulin in their own bodies in the normal way.

When this insulin is given to a heavy drinker, he suddenly discovers about half-an-hour after the injection, that he is tremendously hungry, with a real craving for good solid food. The craving is so strong that until it is satisfied, it blocks out the craving for alcohol. Thus, he is soon able to break his long established habit of substituting alcohol for food.

This in itself is very important, according to Dr Leopold Wexberg, of Washington, D C, though it is not the whole story For though the craving for drink is temporarily overcome by the insulin, it is a harder problem to keep the patient cured

According to Drs Etem G Vasaf and Volta R. Hall of Massachusetts, who treated 43 alcoholic patients with insulin, it is important that the diet contain plenty of sugar and fruit juices Patients were also given Vitamin B tablets.

It seems generally agreed that the drinker drinks because of a desire to escape from some sort of pressure, whether it be worry over home problems, business or some other form of anxiety.

Once the patient becomes aware of the cause of his anxiety and worry he is better able to root it out and get rid of it. This is not always easy and often requires a year or more of study by a psychiatrist. However, with the insulin treatment and temporary relief from the carving the patient is often able to shift his attention from the past to a more promising future. In any event it would appear that the insulin and vitamin treatment of alcoholism is worthy of further trial.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Hogs $30; Prophets Zero

AN ALL-TIME pork price record of $30 a hundred has been reached, accompanied by an all-time low in prophecy. Everybody concerned seems to have guessed wrong.

It is obvious that when hogs on the hoof sell so high that pork on the table must bring in the neighborhood of $1 a pound there is a shortage of supply relative to demand. This is elementary, but at the same time so extremely complicated no one understands it.

President Truman said last summer he was baffled because there were so many hogs on farms and so few in the markets. Patient critics pointed out to him and to the backers of the OPA, who at that time were doing his thinking for him, that there were alarmingly few hogs on farms and that there'd be no pork on the table at all unless OPA lifted price ceilings.

These same critics, however, seemed to take the position that if price ceilings were lifted, thereby bringing hogs to market, they would come in such quantities that the price of pork would go down, after a flurry toward the blue sky. In short, they seemed to believe there would be enough hog meat forthcoming to keep down the price, while pointing out at the same time that there was an over-all shortage in the hog census.

The United States government, meanwhile, which is supposed to look out for such economic planning as private enterprise doesn't accomplish in its trial-and-error-profit-and-loss manner, increased pork exports. This could have been done only on the supposition there would be plenty of pork. At the same time, it did nothing to increase the hog census.

Consumers thus were led to believe that hog meat would be forthcoming at progressively lower prices, which could have been done only by an unfaltering supply of hogs. The meat was forthcoming, but not at progressively lower prices. Hogs at $30 are an ominous sign, ominous enough to make the labor department mutter about the cost of living continuing to increase until June—an invitation to revive the race between prices and wage rates.

It makes both the economic planning that government claims to be able to do and the planning that private enterprise claims doesn't have to be done look bad. The shortages of hogs and railroad cars make something to remember February 1947 for—and not pleasantly. Sometimes it looks as if that vaunted American way consisted of doing everything the hard way.

The Underbelly Wasn't Soft

IF THE United States and Britain had attacked Germany across the Channel in 1943, their invasion spearhead could have been driven far and deep into eastern Europe, speculates the foreign editor of a well-known magazine. It may be that Winston Churchill prolonged the war and made it easier for Russia to move west with his insistence on postponing frontal attack until 1944 and preceding it with the assault on the "soft underbelly" of Europe in 1943—the North African and Italian campaigns.

This is interesting speculation. So is the speculation appearing the same day by the Methodist Board of Temperance that too many toasts may have been drunk by some of the statesmen who were responsible for making momentous decisions. So, in fact, is all speculation about the way World War II might have been fought better if different decisions had been made. Unfortunately, the war cannot be fought over. Hitler would have omitted Stalingrad, Napoleon Waterloo and Cornwallis Yorktown if they could have had a second chance.

One thing about this particular speculation can be taken out of the realm of speculation, however—the softness of the Eureopean underbelly. Mr. Churchill overrated its tenderness and flaccidity. He must have been thinking about Mussolini, not Rommel, or Kesselring, nor the weather, the terrain and the long, long drag from the belly to the heart. If Americans who were there never hear the phrase "soft underbelly" again they will sleep better

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Budget Slashing Puts Republicans on Thin Ice.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 — The Republicans are skating on thin ice in their budget slashing, and know it. But they can safely make it, and the goal justifies the risk.

As a matter of fact, the ice is thinner than the arguing senators know or indicate in their public statements. From a top finance authority on a recent trip, I learned what few of the best informed Washingtonians realize—namely, nearly $100 billions of the federal debt are in short term paper. His calculation from federal reserve board statistics indicated $93 billions were obligations of duration under a year. My investigation concludes that two months ago the treasury had outstanding about $17 billions in bills, $29 billions in certificates of indebtedness, $10 billions in notes, nearly $6 billions in tax and savings notes, about $25 billions in special issues and $1½ billions in non-interest bearing debt. This totals above $88 billions.

Whatever the exact figure may be, if money again becomes tight, or any emergency develops, the treasury would have an unwelcome financing problem on its hands. A building boom might absorb money to an embarrassing extent, for instance.

Prudence would seem to require the refunding of a larger portion of small interest short term holdings into long term bonds. Although the long terms might cost the treasury twice as much in what the books show as interest payments, actually the government recaptures considerable interest and the cost is far less burdensome than advertised.

Cut Not Supported

The press seemed to have an inkling of something like this situation. A survey of newspaper opinion the second week in February before the issue became hot showed a surprising total of only 7 per cent of the newspapers behind the proposed house cut of $6 billions. The Republican house move was disapproved by 28 per cent, 13 per cent of the papers offered mixed comment, while the remainder was silent.

What the press and public do not apparently understand is that the $6 billions figure is only a little above 17 per cent of the budget. Any one who knows Washington must realize that a substantial amount can prudently be cut from any budget without damage to necessary government activity. Both press and public have been impressed, for instance, by the testimony of the generals that national defense would be "immobilized" (they say the Navy would be) by a cut of only 10 per cent in their $11.3 billions. No one seems to notice figures of Senator Byrd (whose figures on any subject have never been successfully disputed to my knowledge) showing the armed forces budget proposes to spend $3,100 per man as compared with $1,306 in 1940. This is for personal maintenance alone and does not include munitions or engines of war.

Any citizen who has been in the armed forces knows 10 per cent can be cut from general military expenditures nearly any time without delivering the nation into the hands of its enemies. Privately some Army and Navy authorities concede such a cut would only eliminate extravagances.

Byrd, who has made the study of government waste his foremost work, was not even a member of the joint committee recommending budget cuts. His independent non-partisan position, however, has given him a valuable objectivity. He says somewhere around $5 to $6 billions can and should be cut, but he is against the proposed similar 20 per cent cut in taxes hurriedly, saying this should be delayed at least until the coming July.

Good Business Essential

From 27 years of intimate connection with government finance, my personal opinion is that good business is more essential to the government financial position than anything, and that a tax reduction will help business more than anything. A foolish notion was built up in the Roosevelt era that taxes affect only the rich. That is purely a political argument. The truth is taxes affect all the people far more than they do the rich, who are better able to protect themselves in stress than the average citizen. All of us know the war taxes, which take up to 90 per cent of what a man earns, have impaired the working theory of reward for effort upon which this country is based. I talked to a doctor the other day who said his business was fine because he had narrowed it down to just what income he needs to live on. Before the war he did twice as much business. Such people spend their income and thus generate more business, and of course all business pays the taxes. Taxes are certainly today restraining business activity generally down to the point where a successful man wants to trim his income, enjoy life more. Thus we will have fewer successful men, and less tax income to the government.

Unless this condition, forced on the nation during the war, is corrected now when they say we have prosperity, it will never be adjusted but will become permanent. The treasury will not reduce taxes in a depression or in times of slight business.

This Designer Set His Sights Too High

A St. Louis fashion designer has come up with a lady's hat which displays the wearer's phone number around the edge of the brim.

Whatever happened to the brazen miss who scandalized the old home town by offering to share her hymnal with a stranger in the congregation?

I know it pays to advertise, but this new chapeau is about as subtle as the writing on a restroom wall.

Of course, there will probably be available a more modest model—which doesn't light up—for girls who like to play hard to get.

Big, broad-brim hats must be coming back. How else would there be room for "Crescent 1776—If A Man Answers, Hang Up?"

Apart from my dubiousness about his taste, I think this designer has overlooked one very important factor. In the case of most whistle-bait, one's vision never gets as high as the head.

Bevin's Blast Lacks Foundation

By WALTER LIPPMANN

"NOT for the first time," said the London Economist a few weeks ago, "the foreign secretary has found that sweeping honest-to-goodness statements about British policy may be misunderstood." The latest example, his impromptu outburst making the President the scapegoat for Bevin's inability to reach a solution in Palestine, will certainly not promote a better understanding of anything.

For while Mr. Truman's statement during the elections was a regrettable incident, it was only an incident. It cannot be the reason why Bevin has failed to produce an agreed solution. For Mr. Truman has not meddled with British policy in India, in Egypt, or in Greece, and yet there, as in Palestine, there are no agreed solutions.

The fact is that in the whole region of the Middle East and southern Asia; from the eastern Mediterranean to Malaya, the British authority is insufficient. It is unable to induce and certainly it is unable to impose solutions for the historic transition from empire to independence.

It is clear that the United States will be compelled to assume new and unexpected responsibilities as the British Empire in Asia dissolves. But how we shall define and how we shall discharge our responsibilities is as yet clear to no one. For we cannot replace British power by American, even if we wanted to do it. The notion that the declining authority of Britain can be saved by American reinforcements, by a transfusion of blood and gold from this country, is a sign of panic and a counsel of desperation.

Inherit Her Enemies

This country can not and will not provide the troops and the money which the British Empire lacks. If we tried it, we should not inherit the empire but only the enmities which it has acquired.

The argument for trying it is that the decline of the British imperial authority is creating a vacuum into which the Soviet Union will advance. The real question, however, is whether the way to prevent this happening is to fill the vacuum by attempting to bolster up the various regimes around the periphery of the Soviet Union.

Perhaps this is the only way. But we must have no illusions as to the cost, the difficulties, and the probable failure of a policy which makes the United States the underwriter of all the old ruling elements against all the new forces among the peoples of Asia. There may be a better way, and it is worth attempting before we accede to the dismal conclusion that we must go to bat in the ninth inning and win the game that is so nearly lost.

The other way would be to deal directly with Moscow on the broad issue of whether the disorder and divisions of Europe, the Middle East, India and China are to be exploited or are to be contained and regulated by agreement. The vacuum exists. It will become more of a vacuum. Either Russia and America will fight a world-wide diplomatic battle for influence and power in this vacuum, or they will agree that there is an equilibrium of power which restrains them both.

Such an agreement, reflecting the over-all balance of power, would be the framework within which the United Nations might work with some hope of success not only in Palestine but in the whole Middle East, within which the divisions in China and India could at least be kept from threatening the peace of the world, within which there could be begun a settlement of Germany within some kind of European system.

There is more chance, it seems to me, of a direct equilibrium between Russia and America than there is of any kind of equilibrium which is based on indirect intervention at all the weak spots.

The attitude the Russians have taken on the Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific may be inspired in part by their own wish to have us recognize their conquests in Europe. But at the same time it shows the kind of agreement to which the Soviet government is amenable. That is the argument of power, and of a diplomatic policy tailored to the actual distribution of power.

SPEAKING OF PROBLEM CHILDREN

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Feb. 27, 1937.

Thousands of dollars poured into the state unemployment insurance fund as employers speeded reports on their 1936 payrolls before a Monday deadline.

Advance draws from the current tax collection totaling $18,600 were made to the city by County Auditor Harry V. Mounts, enabling the city to meet part of its obligations by the following Monday. Of the total, $9,000 was advanced from the general tax collection for payment of city salaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Prettyman of Sheridan road were hosts to members of the Oakland Owl club. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Nedds won high honors in cards and consoled were Mrs. O. W. Price and Denzil Whipps.

A group of Marion women attended the midwinter American Legion auxiliary state conference at Columbus. The party included Mrs. L. M. Eikenbary, Mrs. N. V. Foreman, Mrs. Elinora Kerr, Mrs. Laura Straw, Mrs. Jean Plehn, Mrs. Bess Marks, Mrs. Glen Allen, Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds, Mrs. Cleo Bond, Mrs. W. M. Rizzo, Mrs. Cuba Harraman, Mrs. Florence Herrigel and Mrs. Elizabeth Solomon.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Feb. 27, 1927.

Mrs. Jane Raub, 80, died at her home in LaRue.

The Young People's society of the First Reformed church was in charge of the Sunday evening services in response to an invitation from the pastor, Rev. Herbert F. Weckmueller, and gave a program on the topic, "Practicing World Brotherhood."

Clarence Snyder and Alfred Seager of Cleveland, seniors at Ohio State university, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. Snyder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Snyder on Pearl street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Richards of Wilson avenue attended a family dinner in Delaware honoring Mr. Richards' mother, who celebrated her ninety-first birthday anniversary.

Revival services at Trinity Baptist church were brought to a close with the evangelist, Rev. H. C. Gillespie, speaking on "Pay Day." The pastor, Rev. U. S. Davis announced that a reception for new members would be held soon.

Politics in Budget-Making

By RAYMOND MOLEY

CALIFORNIA'S almost - new senator, William F. Knowland, is showing the kind of leadership the voters demanded in the recent election. He is looking at the budget through the front door. Senator Taft and others seem to prefer the delivery entrance of politics.

In substance, Knowland says that, in a year like this, the first obligation, after a careful pruning of the budget, is to use the surplus to pay $3 billion on the debt. This is a figure which has met the approval of many sound economists. The best suggestion is that in a poor year $1 billion should be paid on the debt; in a medium year, $2 billion; and in a good year, $3 billion. This would be a program for generations ahead. And when, if not now, can there be anticipation of a good year?

After the substantial cut from the Truman figure of expenditures and after $3 billion have been set aside for the debt, then and not before is the time for tax reduction. It takes courage to say it, but Knowland is showing that sort of courage. He has also the assurance of a full six years' term and freedom from the handicap of presidential aspirations.

Two Important Points

It is a good argument that a declaration by congress that no cuts in the requests of the armed services will be allowed will strengthen our hand in foreign affairs. But common sense suggests two points in answer to a blind acceptance of Army and Navy estimates.

The first is that a declaration by congress for a 10 per cent cut will compel the services to use the pruning knife themselves. Such a reduction would certainly cripple no essential defense service in the immediate future, since these appropriations are for a long stretch ahead. It is absurd to believe that a 10 per cent cut would encourage Russia in a policy of expansion. No foreign leader is so lacking in understanding as to believe that a cut of ten per cent is a drift toward the disarmament policies of the past.

Another factor, which every member of congress knows, is that no action now taken by congress binds congress in the months ahead. Deficiency appropriations are always the refuge of politically minded congressmen and the essential second chance for worthy needs. A senator of long experience says that this congress is not unaware of the need for strong armed services. It will not recess before every real defense need is assured. This can be made clear in all our dealings with foreign nations.

Can't Escape Politics

The need in all our dealings with other nations is to provide them with a sound education in American political methods. Other nations must learn that when congressmen have delivered their sweeping statements about such things as 20 per cent tax cuts, they have made their point with their constituents. They have, as they put it, established their record. After that, what happens can be blamed on the administration or on their colleagues.

A survey of congressional opinion makes clear that there will be no horizontal cut in income taxes. Politics again will take care of that. Taxes on low incomes may well be reduced 20 per cent. That can be done without endangering a debt reduction of $3 billion. Enough tax reduction can and probably will be permitted to save political faces in 1948.

And that political consideration, however regrettable, is nevertheless inevitable. To quarrel with such a measure of political prudence on both sides is to argue against our form of government. What is essential is to remind the world that, under our form of government, we have done pretty well in two wars. There is enough evidence of that to reach even the darkest of continents.

Maple Syrup

"Sap's a Runnin'" is the happy cry that dispels winter on thousands of farms in northeastern United States and southeastern Canada.

The sugar maple, "acer saccharum," known also as the hard maple and rock maple, grows from Newfoundland southward to the Ozarks and westward around the Great Lakes to the Great Plains. Only in a small part of this area, however, are conditions right for a spring sap flow in commercial volume, says National Geographic Society. Three-fourths of the maple syrup and sugar produced in the United States comes from Vermont and New York. Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Wisconsin follow the two leaders of United States production, surpassing Vermont's neighboring New England states.

Production is far less than it used to be. The record yield of more than 26,000 tons of maple sugar in 1860 was duplicated in the war year of 1918, when white sugar was scarce. Low syrup prices caused a gradual decline in 10,000 tons in the 1930's. Short sap season, manpower shortages, and maple lumbering activity brought the output to the lowest levels on record—4,100 tons in 1943 and 5,500 tons in 1946.

Much of the maple syrup goes to blenders who mix it with corn syrup, thus stretching the maple flavor thinly over the national pancake appetite. Tobacco manufacturers have discovered it as a flavoring for their products.

Early colonists learned about maple sugar from the Indians, and for many years it was the only sugar used. They reversed the Indian process of freezing off water from the sap by boiling it off.

MR. BYRON PRICE

Dear Byron:

It was good to hear of your being named a top job in the United Nations set-up even from what has been said so far nobody can the slightest idea what you are going to do the You did a swell job in Washington and I g you did not stay in Hollywood long enough let it ruin you. All I know about UN is that greatest need is for a newspaperman who kno something about news value, public reactio etc., and I hope that is where you will come

Your title is "Assistant Secretary General the United Nations for Administrative a Financial Affairs," which is a title only t UN could think up. And as if that wasn't co fusing enough, it explains that this is a governing the departments of "auditing, ge eral accounts, treasury, tax, staff pensio personnel comptroller, budget accounts and e penditure controls." Thus UN launches a cha pion newspaper man and public relations exp as if it was christening a delux C.P.A. man, bank examiner.

Well, that is the way UN chills things instead of creating a little warmth and glo I certainly hope anyhow that you are not go to put on your fur underwear, get aboard dogsled and present a revival of that stirri drama "Peary At The Pole," even if UN wants

My idea is that UN has had about the wo press since the opening of Abie's Irish Rose that it has called you in to sort of handle th end and see that it at least gets protection in t clinches. You would certainly see that the wasn't so much emphasis on the need of swi ming pools, cocktail lounges and skating rin in the life of a lot of men supposed to be bu battling for peace and brotherly love.

* * *

UN needs a standout newspaper man of lo training and good news sense in the front offic It needs somebody who could even expla Gromyko a little and give glamour necessa to the largest herd of interpreters in captivit It needs somebody who can make the new paper readers stop sighing "Ho hum!" whenev it sees a headline on a UN meeting.

Now, of course, in Washington you we chiefly censor, but you knew news. And a tendancy toward reticence which you got Washington would be wiped out after a fe months in Hollywood, eh, Byron?

* * *

Well, anyhow, I will feel the cause of wor peace and better understanding is getting in better hands when you move in and I will n open my newspapers with the constant thoug the United Nations has put its foot in it agai Don't get lost in the personnel budget, auditi or staff pensions department.

All best wishes,

Dr. E. M. Jellinek, director of the Yale Scho of Alcoholic Studies (which we assume tried trace all unjustifiable thirsts to Harvard P inceton), says there was more drinking America in 1946 than ever before. In fact, t people consumed more liquor in nine mont than they had in the previous 12. Maybe th Republican victory in November had somethin to do with it.

But Dr. Jellinek says that despite the fa there was more drinking, there was a decline drunkenness. That is easily explained by th fact that the bars chisel on the drinks so muc that it is almost impossible to feel any effe until after the sixth or seventh.

HARDIN COURT RULING UPHELD

Ohio High Tribunal Says Hospital Records Are Evidence.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—Hospital records, insofar as they comply with statutory requirements and relate to hospitalization henceforth will be admissible in court evidence in Ohio.

In a ruling affirming the lower courts of Hardin county, Ohio's supreme court yesterday held that such hospital records also were valid in their evidence of relation between nurse and patient.

The Hardin county courts had contended that a purported will of Fred S. Weis was not his last, in a contest suit brought by Paul Elmo Weis, an adopted son, against sisters and deceased.

Confined in a hospital for almost a month before his death, the will allegedly executed a last will which the adopted son said he was incapable of making because of his physical condition and the medicines which were administered him.

Certified to High Court

The case was certified to the state supreme court because the Hardin county court of appeals held that its decision was in conflict with appellate court decisions in Preble and Lucas counties involving similar questions on the use of hospital records as evidence.

In affirming the decision of the Hardin county court, the high tribunal also asserted that the "privileged communications rule" which is applicable to physician and patient is not applicable to nurse and patient.

It also said that a "non-expert witness" who had the opportunity to observe could testify as to whether, in his opinion, a person was of sound or unsound mind.

In other decisions the court:

Refused to order the reinstatement of Charles A. Neil as superintendent of the Hamilton county home by the state civil service commission. Neil was dismissed by the county commissioners for dishonesty and malfeasance in office after allegedly falsifying an expense statement for himself and three other employes of the home while attending a welfare conference here.

Dismisses Appeal

Dismissed the appeal of Joseph Benomo of Cleveland from his conviction on a charge of larceny by trick in obtaining $2,500 from Parella on promise of obtaining a liquor permit for his restaurant.

Refused the Home Savings and Loan Co., of Canton, an order which would have compelled the state building and loan superintendent to approve an amendment to its constitution to limit the voting privileges of any person or family to 20 shares regardless of the amount of stock they held.

LIQUOR BUYING PUT INTO HANDS OF CIVIL SERVANT

New System for Ohio Purchase Announced by Director.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—All liquor buying in the state liquor department was placed under a civil service employe for the first time today.

Director Stanley B. Cofall announced that Gale B. Clymer, an accountant, had been given the duties of liquor purchasing agent at a $3,600-a-year base salary.

Clymer has been with the department for five years.

In the past the purchasing duties have been handled by an administrative assistant appointed by the director outside of civil service.

Cofall said such an assistant probably would be appointed later to be in charge of stores but that Clymer would keep his buying duties.

"Any vendor representing a distillery 'must sell' Mr. Clymer," Cofall asserted, "and then under the law the purchase has to be approved by the director."

Cofall made the announcement just before leaving his office to testify before a senate investigating committee which has heard questions raised about department purchases.

SEN. KNOWLAND SET FOR TIFF WITH TAFT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Senator Knowland (R-Calif), squared off today for a debt vs. tax cutting battle with veteran Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

The actual skirmishing will not come until tomorrow, however, when the senate meets again to vote on Knowland's proposal to earmark $3,000,000,000 of any federal budget saving for payments on the national debt.

The Californian, serving his first elective term, told a reporter "I believe we have the votes to beat off amendments and get this proposal adopted." He looked for Democratic support as the deciding factor.

One of the amendments was offered by Taft, chairman of the powerful Republican policy committee, who moved that the debt reduction promise be set at $1,000,000,000

Taft said he doesn't know what the outcome will be, but observed to a reporter that if Knowland's proposal is adopted he is sure "the house won't take it anyhow."

MARSHALL SUBPOENA SUSPENDED BY HOUSE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Rep. Bradley (R-Mich) today "temporarily suspended" the serving of a subpoena against Secretary of State Marshall by a house merchant marine subcommittee.

Bradley, who is chairman of the full committee, acted shortly after the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio), had issued the subpoena for Marshall to appear and produce all records and communications dealing with the wartime transfer of United States ships to Russia.

Bradley said Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson promised him by telephone to appear in the Michigan legislator's office at 4 p. m. today, with copies of state department correspondence with Russia relating to 95 lend lease ships.

Bradley expressed regret Weichel had issued the subpoena.

At a news conference in the presence of Weichel, Bradley said: "I am very sorry he issued it because Gen. Marshall doesn't know a damn thing about these Russian ships."

Bradley said Speaker Martin also deplored the action.

Weichel told Bradley his action was not intended as a reflection on Marshall but was "just a formal procedure" to obtain records the committe has been trying to get for two weeks.

TEACHERS

ers would ask the school officials to join in the movement. An invitation also will be extended to parent-teacher groups and to other interested organizations.

Text of Resolution

The complete text of the resolution adopted by the group follows:

"We hereby resolve that the teachers of the schools of Marion county go to Columbus either March 3 or 4 to demonstrate quietly, but plainly, with signs that they have enough courage to show real concern for the schools of Marion county and the state of Ohio."

An amendment was adopted to the proposal to ask the approval of the local school boards and to seek cooperation of various clubs of their communities. The amendment also gave the legislative committee authority to contact other teachers' organizations throughout the state urging a like demonstration on the same date. The committee was also empowered to choose the date for the demonstration.

The meeting was called by Mr. Bernow, Pleasant Township teacher, as president of the Marion County Teachers association.

U. S. ISLAND PLAN APPROVAL EXPECTED

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 27—The United States plan to continue sole administration of the Japanese-mandated islands under a United Nations trusteeship appeared today to be headed toward almost certain approval by the security council March 7.

As the delegates were called into session at 3 p. m. to resume debate on the British-Albanian mine-laying dispute, some of them still were awaiting instructions from their governments on the trusteeship proposal. However, a majority, including Soviet Russia, were reported to favor the plan "in principal."

The only opposition was expected to come from Great Britain and Australia, but this was not certain.

Soviet Delegate Andrea A. Gromyko, in accepting the substance and main terms of the American plan, offered three amendments at yesterday's meeting, but most delegates felt that he would not veto the U .S. draft agreement even if his amendments were rejected.

The Russian amendments proposed:

1. That the draft agreement drop the provision that the islands would be administered "as an integral part of the United States."

2. That it add the words "or independence" after the words "toward self-government" in the section in which the United States proposed to guarantee the political development of the native population.

3. That it gave the security council authority to alter or terminate the draft agreement, instead of providing that no changes could be made without the consent of the United States.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin would not comment on the amendments, pending more careful study, but informed quarters said the last of the three was the only one which was likely to raise serious objections. Some members of the U. S. delegation expressed belief that this proposal was in violation of the UN charter.

Rev. Ward Addresses Old Age Pensioners

The story of Jesus feeding and clothing the poor and healing the sick was told by Rev. Melroy Ward of Oak Hill, O., guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall. Physical hunger is typical of the hunger of the soul, he stated. "God is able to save no matter how many come to Him; He is able to save anyone at any time. He was with Matthew the collector, the Samaritan woman at Jacob's well, Paul on the Damascus road and John Newton on a slave ship, and all of them were saved," he told his audience.

Rec. Albert Hood sang "Pause for a Moment of Prayer," "Jesus, Wonderful Lord" and "Secret Hiding Place," Christian Ruth and W. E. Sergent sang "Life's Railway to Heaven," the choir sang "Let Jesus Come Into Your Heart" and "Wonderful Words of Life," "America" was sung by the audience. The opening prayer was by Mrs. Elizabeth Houser. M. J. Berry, state president, and Mrs. Berry were guests and the former gave a talk on bills affecting the old age pensioners. A report on the sick was given by Rease Jenkins. Rev. Ward closed the meeting with prayers.

SENATE O.K.'S SMALL BUDGET TRIMMING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Tacitly rejecting any major cuts for the army and navy, the senate voted 51 to 33 yesterday to slash $4,500,000,000 off President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the year starting July 1.

This compares with a $6,000,000,000 cut already approved by the house. The house action had led to cries that the army and navy might be crippled at a critical juncture in world affairs.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the house ways and means committee told a reporter after the senate vote that the cutback of only $4,500,000,000 would throw overboard his bill for a 20% across-the-board slash in individual income taxes, reducing the figure to 10%.

He quickly added, however, that "the house will never accept" the senate figure.

ecutor Charles G. Schnur, Zelodec also said he and Robert Horvath, club president, went to the Cleveland district office of the liquor department "to fill out the inspection report."

He said that a man named Schlesinger asked questions and that he and Horvath supplied the answers. He said he knew of no physical inspection being made by liquor inspectors in December, as noted in the inspection report accompanying the club's application for the license.

Asks Dismissal

The hearing was marked by a number of motions by John P. Butler, attorney for the club, asking for dismissal of the citation. Butler said, "The circumstances surrounding this investigation have been broadcast by the newspapers throughout northern Ohio." He added that state law prohibited disclosure of information concerning such investigations of private clubs.

Zelodec said the local attorney's name was "Mr. Carney" and Butler later identified the attorney as John Carney.

Schnur, in summing up the testimony, told the board:

"This was not a club and never has been a club." He said testimony showed no dues had been prepaid.

Hearing of cases against the Fathers of Servicemen of America, with two chapters, was postponed because of the lateness of the conclusion of the Carlton club case.

Board members said the hearings, involving the organization's chapters at Lorain, O., and Cleveland would be held at a date to be set later.

To date 13 private club licenses have been revoked by the board. Final decision on the permit of the Bayonet Social club of Cleveland was withheld.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR PLANE

By The Associated Press

Girl, 18, Killed in Ohio Auto-Greyhound Crash

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER, O., Feb. 27—An 18-year-old Carroll, O., girl was killed and three other young persons were injured early today in the head-on collision of an automobile and a Valley Greyhound bus 10 miles north of here.

Miss Ramona Graham, 18, of near Carroll, was killed. She was a passenger in the car driven by Charles H. Bullock, 21, of Lancaster, who was injured critically.

Two other young persons in the automobile—Mildred Zwaayer, 21, of near Carroll, and William Entsminger, about 20, of Lancaster—suffered minor injuries.

The bus driver, Wilbur Briggs, 46, of Lancaster and one passenger, Mrs. May Martin, 65, of Lancaster, were slightly injured.

1947 STATE FAIR PLANS GO AHEAD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—Amid the growing controversy over its plans for a general overhauling, the state agriculture department went ahead today—at least on an informal basis—with arrangements to get the 1947 state fair under way.

Edwin J. Bath, former Ohio Farm Bureau lobbyist who was appointed special assistant in the department at an $6,800 salary but has received no pay yet, discussed plans and ideas for the junior fair activities yesterday with representatives of a dozen state youth organizations.

He said the meeting, attended by a score of men and women in the office of Director Frank M. Farnsworth, explored the possibility of letting junior exhibitors take longer to get their exhibits set up and to take them down earlier so they could go home in the daytime.

Another suggestion was revival of the parade of livestock winners, abandoned some years ago, he said, because it frequently delayed the start of the horse show. Bath said it could be staged outside the coliseum if necessary and thus not interfere with the horse show.

Bath and Mrs. Lottie Randolph, who also may not get her pay today as assistant director—a $6,000 a year job—said the department was considering a recreational program for junior exhibitors "so they would have something to do and keep out of mischief."

Meanwhile the state auditor's office awaited word from Farnsworth on whether Mrs. Randolph had been assigned the duties of chief of one of the five statutory divisions of the department, as required by law, before issuing her $250 bi-weekly paycheck today.

Farnsworth said she was handling personnel for the department in addition to routine work as assistant director.

Bath's paycheck has been held up since announcement of his appointment.

cago gateway area. A spokesman for the Western Association of Railway Executives said car loadings for the first six weeks of 1947 were higher than any comparable period in five years and "the only answer to the shortage is more cars."

Those acquainted with the situation said the shortage of steel has been the chief problem. Railroads have 68,000 cars on order, but need thousands more.

DR. RICE MEETING MOVED FOR TONIGHT

To Be Held at Calvary Church; 599 Present Last Night.

The service of the Dr. John R. Rice evangelistic campaign tonight will be held in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church instead of in The Star auditorium. Dr. Rice will preach on "Why and How America Got Back Her Scrapiron."

Last night Dr. Rice used as his sermon text a verse from the Catholic Bible and quoted passages from both Catholic and Protestant Bibles to show that both convey the same message and meaning, although the wording in places is somewhat different. The basic thought of his sermon was that no matter what denomination a person may be connected with, Jesus Christ is the one means of salvation.

Attendance at the meeting last night was listed as 599. When the altar call was given, five persons responded. From out of the city, Rev. Peter Quartel, superintendent of the City Rescue mission of Dayton, and Mrs. Quartel were present. Mrs. Quartel spoke briefly. The service tonight will be at 7:30.

SOME STOCKS LEAN TOWARD RECOVERY

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Stocks generally leaned toward recovery in today's market although vigor was lacking and many leaders more or less hesitant.

The pace slowed to a crawl after a fairly active opening. Gains of fractions to a point or so—there were a few wider "thin" jumps—predominated near the fourth hour.

Armour Packing was the most active on the advance. In front were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Norfolk and Western, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Dow Chemical, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Penney, U. S. Gypsum, United Air Lines, American Woolen and Union Carbide. Moderate response to pleasing dividends was made by Homestake Mining, Mueller Brass, Great Western Sugar and Messe-McCormack.

Green Backs Finance Bill

Tells Congress He's Reconciled to Public Reports on Union Treasuries.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 27 — AFL President William Green told the house labor committee yesterday he is "willing to accept" as a new labor law a requirement that unions make public reports of their finances

In a shouting, red-faced exchange with Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich), the AFL chieftain named two or three other labor law proposals toward which he said he had the same attitude

Hoffman had protested yesterday that Green came before the committee simply opposing any changes in existing laws, having no suggestions for improvement

Finally, Green shouted: "Now wait! I'm willing that the Wagner act be changed so that the employer can engage in free speech

'On financial reports of unions, we're willing

"If it's a matter of union registration, licensed on a voluntary basis, we have no objections'

Hoffman explained, 'Now we are getting somewhere' Previously Green had said several times he had no suggestions for changes in labor laws, because

I'm not trying to limit or enslave labor"

Green also had contended the 'real purpose" behind most of the labor laws proposed in congress is to destroy unions and wreck collective bargaining"

Hoffman asked Green about a $50 initiation fee that the congressman said the AFL carpenters union charged workers on construction of the army's Camp Blanding in Florida

With William Hutcheson, president of the carpenters union sitting at his elbow, Green said he couldn't recall the case When pressed on it he exclaimed, "My dear sir I—I—you are setting up a hypothetical case"

Hoffman said it was an actual case

The exchange went on

Hoffman 'You read in the paper that Phil Murray (CIO president) said there's no justification for jurisdictional strikes Do you agree?"

Green 'Not altogether"

Hoffman 'Don't you believe your unions should settle them?"

Green "That's our policy.' * * * *

Hoffman "Farmers are unorganized When they bring ham and eggs to town why don't you refuse to eat 'em?"

Green 'We are reasonable men"

Rep Landis (R-Ind), asked why, if unions can revoke charters of local unions for unauthorized strikes—"why wouldn't it be right for us to revoke rights under the Wagner act for those strikers?"

Green replied, "We do revoke charters," and then stated—as he did a number of times — "when you attempt to deal with that by legislation you are going to make it worse"

Green opened his testimony by reading a prepared statement contending the various proposals for new labor laws overlook 'the causes of the industrial unrest that has swept the country since V-J day" The main cause, he insisted is inflation

GOERING SUICIDE JUST MATTER OF PLUMBING

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, Feb 27—Hermann Goering knew something about German plumbing which his captors did not, and that was how he managed his suicide several hours before he was to be hanged, a reliable source said yesterday

The informant said the former reichsmarshal described his ruse in a letter to Col B. C Andrus, the prison commandant

That letter and two others by Goering are in Allied control council files and probably never will be published officially.

The Nazi leader's letter to Andrus, the informant said, told of having three metal cartridges, each containing a vial of prussic acid Andrus found one on Goering's person and thought there were no more But Goering had a second one in his luggage in Mondorf and a third one concealed rectally when he was moved to Nuernberg for his trial by the international military tribunal

As soon as he was in his cell, Goering went over the cubicle minutely and studied the toilet There was a flat china bed, unlike American plumbing, and the four-inch wide outlet in the front

The water flushed down that aperture, but there it had to backtrack. The pipe leading back, however, was not built in a straight line There was a slight hump in it about three inches from the front

Goering had to gamble that the hump was high enough so a metal cartridge placed in there, out of sight of course, would be so heavy that the water could not carry it over that jump. Flushing proved that it was

When Goering was found dead, the metal cartridge lay beside him It was stained green, the deposit of many weeks of lying in the aperture with water crossing over it

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 27—Three newspaper publishers are in line today for apointment to the newly-created house committee to investigate newsprint and other paper supplies

They are representatives Clarence J Brown (R-Ohio), who will be chairman of the seven-member committee Robert L F Sikes (D-Fla), and Paul Shafer (R- Mich)

Their appointment by Speaker Martin is expected in time for the committee to hold its initial session early next week in keeping with Brown's promise to 'tackle this critical problem quickly and do something about it"

Slated to serve with the trio of publishers are representatives Richard Harless (D-Ariz), Lindley Beckworth (D-Tex) and Charles A Wolverton (R-NJ), all of whom, along with Brown, were members of a house interstate subcommittee which investigated the newsprint situation during the 79th congress

NO IMMEDIATE HOPE FOR BOXCAR RELIEF

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb 27—Ohio was without hope today of immediate relief from the growing shortages of boxcars and coal gondolas which had formed a vise that gradually was squeezing a portion of the state's industrial production.

Two large coal mines were operating only three days a week because they could not obtain enough cars, informed sources reported. The mines employ approximately 800 men.

Spokesmen for the Ohio Coal association declared there was a "general shortage" of coal cars throughout the Ohio mining area

A survey, they said, was being conducted.

Toledo's National Milling Co, largest soft wheat mill in the nation, which two days ago shut down, resumed production yesterday

A drastic slash of lime production in the Toledo-Carey-Sandusky area—largest in the world—had resulted because of the situation however Newspaper publishers 'too awaited arrival of cars containing newsprint.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 800 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at these friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

Third Herbert-Backed Bill Up For Ohio Legislature's Passage

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—The third administration-backed tax bill in as many days was called up for passage in the Ohio house today before the legislature adjourned over the weekend.

Representatives said they wanted to rush the cent-a-gallon liquid fuel levy to the senate so it could be considered with the other two-house-approved measures before all three expired in the next few weeks.

The other bills were for a .65 per cent utility excise tax to be used by counties for welfare work in addition to poor relief, and the two cent-a-pack cigaret levy.

The three produce about $32,300,000 annually in revenues which Gov. Thomas J. Herbert termed essential to his pay-as-you-go state financial program. Senate leaders predicted early action on all three.

The senate in its sharpest debate of the session voted for life imprisonment, instead of the death penalty, for first degree rape, defined as committed during kidnaping, armed robbery or similar crimes.

Needed To Halt Attacks

Sen. Fred G. Reiners, co-sponsor of the bill with Sen. Kyle F. Brooks, another Cincinnati Republican, said the death penalty was needed to halt increasingly frequent criminal attacks on women.

Sen. Allen N. Corlett (R-Cuyahoga) said the testimony of one woman should not be sufficient to send a man to the electric chair and his amendment eliminating the death penalty was upheld by a rising vote of 20 senators.

Sen. Jack A. Persky, Cleveland Republican who said he objected to capital punishment, attempted unsuccessfully to have the measure returned to committee before it was passed, 29 to 6, and sent to the house.

"There's no such thing as first degree rape," said bachelor Persky, a former assistant Cuyahoga county prosecutor. "Rape is rape and the penalty should be the same," he declared. The penalty now is 1 to 15 years in prison.

Not Severe Enough

Miss Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), lone woman senator, said life imprisonment was not severe enough for those who attack women "nightly on Cleveland streets."

"When hospitals every day receive such cases, I'm surprised that senate members oppose the bill," she chided.

Others speaking in opposition to the death penalty included Sens. Harry E. Davis (R-Cuyahoga), Carl D. Sheppard (R-Mahoning) and Raymond E. Hildebrand (R-Lucas).

Sen. Robert A. Pollock (R-Stark) said that because of recent attacks on two 8 and 9-year-old girls in his district, "parents are almost afraid to let their children go to school."

The senate also passed a bill by Sen. Robert L. Quinn (R-Jefferson) to permit Steubenville's city council to increase the $2,400 a year salary of the city's municipal court clerk, Virginia Ferguson.

New Missing GI Bill

The house, besides approving the utility excise tax bill by Rep. Harry D. Bellis (R-Van Wert), voted unanimously for a measure by Rep. Frank W. Moulton (R-Scioto) permitting presumption of death for servicemen "missing" at least 12 months, instead of waiting seven years.

Representatives also administered the first defeat of the session to a bill by Rep. Henry W. Deming (R-Licking). It aimed at benefitting Newark City hospital.

The proposal would have allowed municipalities to make agreements with private contractors for construction and operation of hospitals or additions upon a 65 per cent favorable vote at special or primary elections prior to Aug. 15, 1948.

Rep. Walter L. Tarr (R-Hamilton) contended it would be unconstitutional to permit subdivisions to loan their credit to private institutions and the measure lost by a vote of 37 to 70 against.

The house also received two resolutions. One by Rep. Guy C. Hiner (R-Stark) requested the state to replace the Canton-Massillon section of U. S. route 30, now nearing "complete deterioration," with a super-highway.

Wants School Commission

The other, by Rep. Virgil Perrill (R-Fayette), asked creation of a six-member special house committee to study public school supervision and finances and report its findings by next May 15.

The senate finance committee recommended for passage a house-approved bill to appropriate $9,050,000 so the highway department could get started on its spring road repair program.

The senate agriculture committee postponed indefinitely a hearing scheduled today on a bill by Sen. Joseph R. Nutt Jr. (R-Cuyahoga) to reorganize the state agriculture department.

Sen. George G. Shurtz (R-Coshocton), committee chairman, said he expected an identical bill by Rep. Elton Kile (R-Madison), to be taken up in the house where it still is in reference committee.

Gov. Herbert has objected to a provision in the bill for six-year terms for department division heads. The measure also would freeze Edwin J. Bath in the posts of state fair manager and of executive secretary to an expanded board of agriculture. Bath is a former farm bureau lobbyist.

Holds Up Salaries

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, a Democrat, has held up Bath's $8,840 a year salary and that of Mrs. Lottie Randolph, assistant agriculture director, who gets $6,000 annually, on grounds she is required by law to head a division.

Sub-committees of the house and senate military affairs committees decided at a joint hearing to start drafting a plan next Wednesday to pay bonuses to Ohio war veterans. The plan must be approved by the electorate if it passes the assembly.

The committees heard representatives of property owners protest proposals to tax real estate to pay bonuses estimated to cost from $300,000,000 to $600,000,000. A general levy, such as the sales tax, was preferred.

Joseph Chaka of Cleveland, who said he represented veterans who marched on the statehouse and booed senators during demands for immediate bonuses, reiterated that taxes should be levied on corporations and high incomes to make the payments.

Senator Brooks, a senate subcommittee member, asked Chaka if he was a member of the Communist party and received this reply:

Refuses To Answer

"My twin brother (Edward) is a Communist but I don't think that is a proper question. I stand on my constitutional rights. I refuse to answer."

The matter was dropped there but other senators said they recognized self-admitted Communists among the marchers.

Mother, This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Wonderful

Saves Real Money. No Cooking. Quick Results.

To get the most surprising relief from coughs due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it's hard to beat for results.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a pint bottle. Fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really splendid cough syrup—about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a long time.

And for real, quick relief, it's very effective. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

UNION BACKS HEALTH PLAN

Votes To Support Single District Provided No Extra Tax Is Required.

Marion Central Labor Union members at a meeting in their hall on East Church street Tuesday night approved a Chamber of Commerce proposal to form a single health district for the Marion area, provided the proposal does not entail any additional levy for its financing.

Union members voiced their approval of the measure, which would combine the city and county health districts into a single district, after E. E. Crizer, a union delegate to Monday night's Chamber of Commerce public meeting on the health program, gave a report on the proposal.

Carroll Davidson, president of the union, presented a report on the Red Cross campaign to open March 1 and urged labor groups to cooperate in the drive. He also gave a report on the annual anniversary party of the Marion Federation of Musicians, (AFL) held Monday night at Club Admiral. It was announced that an educational program featuring civic affairs and labor problems would be conducted at the next union meeting.

The union purchased a public address system to be used in its hall on special occasions.

William Armbruster, chairman of Machinists Local 1281, reported on an annual party held Saturday night in the Central Labor Union hall. Approximately 550 persons attended the party.

E. E. Crizer was appointed by President Davidson as the union's delegate to the next school board meeting.

Saudi Arabia To Collect Billion Dollars in U. S. Oil Royalties

...three stories on Amer... development in Saudi ...

By MAX BOYD
Associated Press Writer

DHAHRAN, SAUDI ARABIA, ...—Oil reserves, as estimat... by the American company ... holds concessions in an area ... Arabia larger than Texas ... California combined, will ... more than $1,000,000,000 in ... treasury of this desert king...

King Ibn Saud's government re... royalty of about 21 cents ... barrel of oil taken out of ... ground. The Arabian Ameri... Oil Company estimates that reserves in its area are "conservatively" 5,000,000,000 barrels.

It will take many years to achieve the total royalty indicated by these figures. Production last year was around 60,000,000 barrels, which at 21 cents a barrel mean: around $12,600,000 royalty. Company officials hope that the current production rate—and, with it, royalties—will be more than doubled by work now recommended.

Saudi Arabia also derives revenue from customs on equipment and supplies imported by the company. Its national income is affected also by Arabian American's monthly payroll, $315,000 of which goes to non-Americans. Most of these non-Americans are Arabs. Some of them live in brick barracks built by the company, others in thatch-like huts. They have their own mosque in Dhahran. Other non-American employes include Italians, who were brought in from Eritrea during the war and are being repatriated gradually.

Obtain U. S. Loan

Recently, the government obtained a loan of approximately $15,000,000 from the United States. What will be done with this money, and with Arabian revenue from the oil, is up to King Ibn Saud. The reason he granted concessions to an American company in the first place, according to James MacPherson, resident vice president of Arabian American, was not because it bid higher than British interests but because the king thought the United States would not try to exploit and boss his country.

Ibn Saud told visiting newsmen recently that funds from various sources would be spent constructively on education, public health, irrigation, communications and other fields.

One project he mentioned particularly was a railroad. It is planned to extend 250 miles from the desert from Dammam, on the Persian gulf, to the king's capital at Riyadh. It would be the first railway in Arabia since a line from the north toward Medina was torn up during World War I to hamper Turkish troops.

MacPherson says the oil company has agreed to build the largest harbor on the east coast at the Dammam end of the proposed line. It would cost $6,000,000 and be used to handle incoming shipments. The present peninsula and pier at Ras Tanura, site of the company's $45,000,000 refinery, would continue to serve American navy oilers and other customers calling for oil.

Railway Spur Proposed

A railway spur is proposed for Dammam to Dhahran to serve this community.

At the king's request, the oil company is providing management for an irrigation project at Al Karj. The Saudi Arabian government is paying for this enterprise. It also is ordering a central electrification system for the capital at Riyadh and providing a new water system for the west coast port of Jiddah, where thousands of Moslems from other countries land each year on pilgrimages to the sacred city of Mecca.

Arabian American is building a hospital for Arabs at a cost of $550,000. It will be the most modern in Saudi Arabia. Arab employes of the company will be treated free, and any Arab in need of hospitalization will be eligible for admission. Five American doctors will be on the staff.

The government has hopes of extensive irrigation developments. There are already many examples of the agricultural possibilities of the country. At Qatif Gardens, 20 miles north of here, ancient artesian wells and irrigation canals furnish water to large date and vegetable gardens, and to alfalfa fields. Around Hofuf, south of here, there are many large groves of date palms.

No one has any idea of making the entire country "bloom like the rose." The Arabian desert is much too vast for that. It extends over 500 miles from the west coast to Riyadh, with only an occasional oasis to break the sweep of rock and sand, and some 250 miles farther to the east coast at Dhahran. Only desert brush and short, tough grass grow in most areas following the infrequent rains. Great sections of the interior seem destined to remain, as they are now and have been for centuries, the home of wandering Bedouin tribesmen and their herds of camels and sheep.

VA Lists Equipment For Blind Veterans

A liberal policy for blind veterans who request certain types of equipment to overcome their handicap has been adopted by the Veterans Administration.

The various VA field stations in the three-state area have been instructed to follow a liberal procedure in processing blind veterans' requests for certain aids.

The list of approved aids for the blind include Braille writers, desks, slates and paper, Braille pocket slates, Braille watches and typewriters. Authority also has been granted for local purchase by VA officials of such non-standard items as dark glasses, glass eyes and radios.

To obtain aids in overcoming the handicap of blindness, a veteran should submit to VA a written request including his name, address and claim number, the equipment he desires and his particular need for it. The veteran may prepare his request at home or he will be given assistance in compiling his request at any VA office.

VA To Expand Aid For Hard-of-Hearing Vets

Anticipating a progressive increase in the number of war veterans with impaired hearing, the Veterans Administration has outlined an expanded program for treatment and rehabilitation of these veterans.

Approximately 15,000 hearing deficiences have been treated by the Army and Navy medical departments, but many other veterans with minor hearing impairments were discharged without this specialized treatment and eventually may suffer further loss of hearing, VA officials said.

Specialists in the correction of deafness already have been assigned each of VA's 13 branch offices in the U. S. to assist branch medical directors in establishing the most beneficial methods for treatment of some 30,000 veterans who are expected to require attention. Specialist for the VA in the Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky area is Dr. Charles Kinney of Cleveland. Dr. C. H. Francis of Columbus, is the acting branch medical director.

The projected program will cover six different fields in the science hearing: Qualified medical doctors will endeavor to restore lost hearing by standard treatment and will advise patients on the best means of using their residual hearing. Phychiatry and psychology will be employed, not only to correct purely psychogenic hearing impairments out also to assist deafened individuals in social and vocational adjustment. Thorough acoustical studies will be made for proper rehabilitation, including the selection and fitting of artificial hearing aids. Instruction and training in the use of hearing devices also will be given. Training in lip-reading is to be provided as an additional adjunct to hearng devices. Speech therapy will be made available to those few veterans whose deafness may give rise to difficulties in talking of speech deformities.

VA Loan Gratuity Exempt from Tax

The four per cent gratuity which the Veterans Administration pays to the credit of veteran-borrowers under the loan provisions of the G.I. Bill is exempt from federal income tax, according to finance officials at the VA's Ohio - Michigan - Kentucky Branch Office in Columbus.

Under the law, VA gives the lender a gratuity which is equal to four per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. This amount may be credited against the loan in any manner agreed upon by the veteran and the lender.

The four per cent gratuity actually is an outright gift to the veteran-borrower and is not subject to income tax. In addition, VA officials said that all interest paid on loans guaranteed under the law may be listed as a deduction by the veterans regardless of whether a part of the interest actually was paid with the gratuity.

As of Feb. 1 the Veterans Administration had made a total of approximately $6,265,172 in gratuity payments for credit to the loan accounts of approximately 61,700 veterans in the three states. Gratuity payments included $3,397,214 to 32,303 Ohio veterans.

Questions and Answers

Q. Will VA guarantee a G.I. loan for a boat which I can use during my vacation and for taking occasional fishing trips?

No. Loans for pleasure purposes cannot be guaranteed or insured by VA.

Q. For what terms of years can a guaranteed loan be made?

Q. I want to change the beneficiary on my National Service Life Insurance, but I don't want the old beneficiary to know about it. Am I permitted to do this?

A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his NSLI at any time without their knowledge or consent.

NEWSPAPERS PRESS HUNT FOR MORE WHITE PAPER

Many Face Possibility of Curtailment of Operations.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Newspapers pressed a restless hunt for white paper today as congress moved on two fronts to alleviate a worsening newsprint shortage caused by a boxcar tieup.

Many publishers reported they were operating on a day-to-day basis and had been compelled to curtail advertising space.

The nationwide shortage grew in part from temporary dislocation of the Canadian rail system. The Dominion supplies 80 per cent of all news print used by American newspapers.

One Columbus paper reported "critical" shortages, adding we are urging our advertisers not to take more space than absolutely needed." Another Columbus paper declared, "we are on a day-to-day basis, just hoping our cars get through."

At Chicago one paper reported eliminating between 12 and 13 pages of advertising daily. Another said it would begin rationing space by the week's end if additional white paper failed to come through.

SEEK MILK PRICE HIKE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27 — A wholesale price hike of 35 cents a hundredweight in milk will be sought by producers in the Columbus marketing area at a public hearing March 10, it was said today. Local distributors said such an increase would mean that consumers would have to pay more for milk.

The Hawaiian islands cover 6,454 square miles.

SMALL APPLE CROPS SEEN FOR 10 YEARS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27—Apple crops in the United States will continue to be small for another decade, John R. Magness, horticulture expert from Beltsville, Md., told 200 Ohio fruit growers yesterday.

A scarcity of new plants will delay any earlier increase in the crop which at the 1946 total of 157,000,000 bushels was far below the average production, Magness reported.

The Maryland apple expert, chief pomologist of the U. S. department of agriculture, addressed the opening session of a three-day Ohio State Horticultural society centennial meeting.

An improvement in the condition of fruit as it goes to market is the main concern of apple growers today, Magness said, adding that vastly increased competition from the citurs fruit industry made the mareting problem more urgent.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert is scheduled to address tonight's banquet meeting of the society.

More than 50,000,000 persons have visited the Smithsonian Institution in Washington since it was founded 100 years ago.

BONUS MARCHERS AT COLUMBUS. Enjoined to apply "maximum pressure on authorities" for speedy solution to five problems, these veterans brandish signs as they march through Columbus. An estimated 1,000 ex-servicemen are in the Ohio capital demanding a state bonus law, low-rent housing project, improved GI bill of rights, a state FEPC to do away with discrimination and improved veterans' health program.

25 POUNDS OF SUGAR GUARANTEED BY OPA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—The government yesterday guaranteed 25 pounds of sugar for household users during the first nine months of 1947 and an OPA official said it is a "safe guess" the year's individual allowance will be 33 pounds—10 more than last year.

In a joint statement, the agriculture department and the office of temporary controls:

1. Reiterated that a new stamp, good for 10 pounds will be validated on April 1.

2. Announced another 10 pounds will be validated on July 1.

3. Announced increases in second quarter sugar rations for bakers, soft drink bottlers, candy makers, preserve manufacturers, and other industrial users, and for hotels, restaurants and eating places.

Household users already have been allocated five pounds of sugar for use during the first three months of this year.

The world's altitude record for two-place gliders, set recently in Florida, is 18,700 feet above the point of release.

2 Georgia Chiefs Equals Jail Term for Ohioan

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27 — The muddle of two Georgia governors has resulted in an extended stay at Cuyahoga county jail for Frank Brown, alias Louis Hogans, 42, of Cleveland.

Wanted as a murder suspect in Atlanta, he was arrested here Feb. 11 on a fugitive warrant but refused to waive extradition.

The only other way to get him to Atlanta would be on a Georgia governor's warrant to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio. This explains why Brown is likely to remain here for another few weeks.

Assistant County Prosecutor John J. Mahon told the court a letter had just been received from Atlanta explaining the delay of the papers. Mahon was informed that the state hoped to have its gubernatorial problem solved by March 6 and that the warrant should be here by March 10.

AUXILIARY TRAFFIC PROGRAM DISCUSSED

Patrol Lieutenant Speaks at Legion Meeting.

A safety program which is being inaugurated by the local highway patrol auxiliary was explained at a meeting of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, Tuesday night in the Legion Dugout. W. Don Davis, a member of the auxiliary patrol, was in charge, and introduced Lt. A. L. Bouton, a member of the Highway Patrol staff of Columbus, who outlined the traffic safety program. Lt. Bouton is the author of the instruction manual used by Ohio highway patrol auxiliaries. A traffic quiz was conducted by Mr. Davis, and assisting was Cpl. R. P. Shaw of the Marion highway patrol substation. The traffic quizzes are to be conducted at various meetings in the city to inform people about safety rules

Reports on the midwinter conference held Feb. 23 at Mt Vernon were given by J. Albert Dripps and Donald Bowen, who attended with a number of representatives of the post. Announcements were made of initiation to be held March 11, followed by a fish fry, and also a card party with the Legion auxiliary March 8 at 8 p. m. in the Dugout. Proceeds of the party will go into a fund to purchase new drapes for the club rooms and Dugout.

The post voted a contribution to aid Martin V. Coffey, national committee chairman, in his campaign for national commander. An announcement was made that the post bowling team will enter the American Legion handicap bowling tournament to be held at Columbus in the near future.

Boy Scout Troop 5, sponsored by the post, gave a demonstration of their activities, and William Dowler, a new member, led group singing. Following the meeting, a social hour was held in the new "American Legion 162 Club" rooms.

Most of the local entries in the tournament have been paired with tough customers and if they still are present in the tournament listings after these engagements the local outlook will be bright.

Play in Fast Company

Columbus Rosary has a record of 17 wins and seven losses, several of them by very slight margins, and has the services of Jack Parsons, Capital City leading scorer.

Caledonia may find itself looking up for once this season as Newark St Francis has according to reports received by Coach Thurman Wright, three players who considerably surpass the six foot mark Their record is 23 victories and two losses, made chiefly against parochial quintets.

The Monroe club which St Mary plays is not the same outfit which during the season defeated Harding here. It is one of the three representatives from Pickaway county, having finished in third place in the tournament there.

Irish, Caledonia May Meet

St. Mary and Caledonia will meet in the second round of the tournament provided they survive the first Coach Gene Fetter of St. Mary has named the 10 players who will make the jaunt to Westerville. They are Dick Schuler, Pat Bray, Dick Drake, Bob Stuber, John Baldauf, Dan Smith, Jim Moloney, Dick Weis, Bob Cusick and Bob Pruzzo. Managers Jim Stahl and Tom Wagner will accompany the team.

Wesleyan Names New Grid Coach

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O, Feb. 27 — Selection of Glen Fraser of Cleveland as football coach of Ohio Wesleyan university was announced today by Dr. H. J. Burgstahler, president of the school.

Fraser is coach of the Cleveland Lincoln High school football squad, which lost only one game last season.

He will replace the retiring veteran, George Gauthier.

Fraser coached the Lincoln Presidents from 1935 through 1943, went into the Navy for two years, and has been the Presidents' mentors for the last two years

He is 38 years old, a native of Iron Mountain, Mich., and a graduate of the University of Minnesota. Married and the father of a 20-month-old daughter, he is expected to move here shortly before the start of spring practice next month.

Fraser's first coaching job was at the Virginia, Minn., High school. His next was at West High in Cleveland, where he served two years as physical instructor before becoming freshman football coach

His record at Lincoln includes 36 victories in his last 38 games plus six Cleveland high school championships.

Gauthier, who will remain as Wesleyan director of athletics after 26 years as football coach, said he was extremely impressed by Fraser's record and felt the Clevelander had "the ability and personality needed to lead the Bishops."

ADMIRAL INGRAM NEW GRID BOSS

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Feb 27—Directors of the All-America professional football conference may have reached for brass but they got solid gold when they signed Admiral Jonas H. Ingram as the new czar of the conference

In naming the 60-year-old four-star veteran to what one official frankly said he hoped was a lifetime contract, the conference obtained:

A hero of two wars, commander of the Atlantic fleet until last September, who wears six decks of service stripes and a chest full of decorations, including the Congressional Medal of Honor.

A former playing star, coach and athletic director for Navy who, during his 44 years in the service, never lost contact with sports

An easy-to-know man who can be as informal as a gob, or who can—and probably will—crack a mighty whip if anyone imposes on his good graces

Jonas, as his old cronies call him, was presented here yesterday by the retiring temporary commissioner, Benjamin F. Lindheimer, as the successor to Jimmy Crowley, who resigned the post to become co-owner and coach of the Chicago Rockets.

Crowley reportedly received $30,000 a year, but the admiral said he preferred not to discuss the salary.

"Neither snow nor rain nor sleet nor dark of night ..."

Taking their cue from the postal slogan, followers of Ohio's scholastic basketball teams didn't let snowstorms and attendant slippery driving conditions keep them at home Wednesday night.

In every tournament where the attraction was outstanding, the crowds packed the gymnasiums. And while the drivers were able to stay on the road, several promising teams skidded out of the drive for the state championship

The two defending champions will appear in action Thursday night. Farmer, class B champion, takes on Delta of Fulton county in play at Leipsic and Middletown, class A winner last year, tangles with Xenia Central at Dayton

Middletown is expected to win this engagement but the outcome of the Farmer-Delta game may guarantee a new state B champ Farmer has had an in-and-out year and lost a handful of games before getting on the winning track. During the Defiance county tournament last week Farmer lost to Jewell but managed to win the consolation round and quality for further participation

But a loss tonight would be the end of the road. Jewell, incidentally, was eliminated 42 to 31 by Miller City last night.

East Liverpool, one of the eastern sectors strongest teams, stamped itself as a real contender for class A honors this year by taking Steubenville Central apart 72 to 33 in play at Toronto. Any team that scores 72 points in 32 minutes must not be taken lightly

In this category must go Ashland, which ran up a 72 to 31 victory over Port Clinton in the A tournament at Sandusky.

Springfield Catholic's 32 to 23 triumph over Miamisburg at Dayton was the first time Catholic had been abe to win a game in district play in 12 years.

The Dayton fans also were impressed with the aggressive play of Springfield Public as Dayton Kiser was thwarted 41 to 29. Highlight of the play at Findlay was Fostorias 48 to 43 victory over Lima Central.

Axiom About Happy Baseball Players To Get Test in '47

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—The old baseball axiom that contented players make the best players will be thoroughly tested this year.

With a majority of the 16 major league clubs not due to begin their actual spring training grind until next week, approximately 95 per cent of the 600-some big leaguers already have inked their 1947 contracts.

Of the 30 or so players still outside the fold, some have given indication that they will bring in their signed contracts when they arrive at their respective training camps A player is not officially listed as a holdout until he is overdue in camp.

The biggest name and probably the most adamant holdout—is slugging Stan Musial, the National league batting champ who was the big gun in the St Louis Cardinals' drive to the flag and subsequent world's title last year

Other regulars in the holdout brigade include Rudy York, hard-hitting first baseman of the Boston Red Sox; pitcher Dizzy Trout and outfielder-first baseman Roy Cullenbine of the Detroit Tigers; southpaw Howie Pollet of the Cardinals; Babe Young, New York Giants; Phil Masi, Boston Braves; Buddy Lewis, Washington Senators. Augie Galan Cincinnati Reds and Ron Northey and Oscar Judd, Philadelphia Phillies Lewis and Galan have notified their respective managers that they will discuss their contracts when they arrive in camp.

The most serious of the holdouts appears to be Musial. He is dickering for a salary which would place him among the highest brackets in National league history. Reports are that Musial, who drew about $14,000 last year, is demanding $30,000. Owner Sam Breadon is reported to have countered with an offer of $22,000.

McMILLEN, GREEN CAMP TO FIGHT AA TITLE BOUT

Y. M. C. A. Tourney to Start Tomorrow Night.

The championship in the "Y" AA league will be decided tonight when McMillen Feeds, winner of the first round, engages Green Camp K. of P., winner of the second round, at 8. Each team has downed the other once in league play so on this basis the match shapes up as being one of the Y's toughest.

Tomorrow night a double elimination tournament in which all 18 teams who have been in the Y leagues will participate, starts. The Star yesterday incorrectly gave the starting date for this tourney as Saturday.

All Star Double Main Event Tonight

If ever an all star wrestling program was signed for Marion wrestling fans, they have it tonight at the Marion Armory. Renee LaBelle, the clever Canadian who hasn't shown here in a long time is slated to meet the Jap, Duke Keomuka. Without a doubt these two would lead the country's list of clever wrestlers, and their match tonight should just about prove it.

The other ninety minute main event may be a little different for as yet the masked Mystery Man has met and defeated one man and that man was Dutch Schultz, one of the roughest in the country, but tonight when he tackles Whitey Walberg. It may be a different story for while Walberg is fast and clever he can get rough and it will be up to the masked one to pick out how he would like to wrestle the Milwaukee Swede. Both matches are packed with action for the fans.

A ten minute prelim will start the show at 8:30. Call 2745 for your ringside. Prices remain the same.—Adv.

Keglers Set for City Bowling Tourney

Marion bowlers will tee off Saturday night at 7 at Marion Recreation alleys in the annual City bowling tournament.

Almost 200 bowlers are scheduled to participate. There will be five-man team, doubles and single competition. Trophies and cash prizes are offered. The keglers will not compete directly against each other, but will bowl for highest scores, to be computed after the tourney closes.

Top prizes will be a loving cup donated by May Jewelry Co. Cash prizes will be offered in each division approximately as far down as the 25 top entries. The main trophy will be awarded on a handicap basis. Cash prizes will be given both on handicaps and straight scores.

Programs on the Air

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Increasing indications are that the network program scene is to undergo more than the normal amount of spring alteration this year. And earlier than usual, too.

Some of the changes are definite; others are still in the guessing stage. Reasons behind the shifts are, of course, unstated, but the "trade talk" has been stressing such points as sponsor desire for different types of shows as well as the intention of effecting economies.

Newest developments show: That's Finnegan, comedy skit on CBS on Thursday nights, to close March 20, with the sponsor replacing it with "The Whistle," a mystery drama and a summer feature last year, at a new Wednesday night time.

Roy Rogers of NBC, which this season took over from the old time Saturday Barn Dance, to wind up late in March when the sponsor drops the time.

Meet Me At Parky's, also NBC, to close simultaneously with the sponsor in April.

It's Up To You, Wednesday teenage forum, to end on MBS in mid-March.

In addition, Joan Davis' CBS Monday sponsor is reported to be considering a less costly replacement when her contract is up in June, while the Bob Burns sponsor on NBC Sundays is looking for another show, also after June, and possibly may take Ellery Queen now on CBS.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"YES, darling," I told Mary Veritzen in answer to her dramatic and puzzling plea. "All of the first act is done, and has passed your father-in-law's august censorship. And the second act is almost completed, but the dialogue is giving me a good deal of trouble. I was trying to iron it out a bit when you arrived."

"This is better news than I hoped a few minutes ago," she said. "I was down in the depths when you said the play wasn't finished. But, if you've gotten that far—I know you when you feel the rowel—you'll have it finished by the time I'm ready for it. And don't ever believe I haven't got spurs on my pumps.

"Do you realize," she went on, "that I haven't the slightest idea what the play's about? I knew you were writing one, but that's all the news they vouchsafed me. They sure doled news out in driblets out there."

Uneasy Conjecture

Again uneasy conjecture stirred me. The authorities at the sanitarium evidently had kept everything exciting from her. I realized one thing, that before another two hours had passed, Dicky, or Noel, or Philip Veritzen, must get in touch with the sanitarium, and find out the viewpoint of the physicians who had been in attendance on Mary.

"There are always two sides to every question," I reminded myself as I replied to Mary's plaint.

"That condition is one that can be remedied easily," I told her. "I am ready now to give you what your uncle Dicky calls a 'round by round' description, and also to furnish you with sides of the first act."

"Oh, you sweetheart of aunts!" she said, reaching her arms out to me. But I dodged them.

A String Attached

"There's a string attached," I said. "And you know me when I'm adamant, as I am this minute. You shall have all of those things, as soon as we've had some tea—I'll order it immediately—and while we're waiting for it to come up you shall tell me how I'm going to explain to Noel and his family your wiring me, and not him, and your coming here instead of to your own apartment to meet your husband."

I gave her a companionable grin as I started for the telephone, and I purposely had kept my voice light and mirthful when I was talking about her husband and his family.

"You can be thinking up what Junior calls a 'good one,'" I said, as I took down the receiver.

"I got the duckiest letters from Jim and Rod last week," she said, but I already was talking to room service.

"Strong tea, and little caviar sandwiches, also some anchovy ones," I said, "with some Camembert on toasted crackers. Please send a tray for two up immediately. Yes, Mrs. Graham. Send the trays to my study, not to the living apartment.

A Delightful Smile

"You cunning fiend!" Mary said, but she was smiling delightedly. "How you remember my weaknesses! And isn't it wonderful to have all those things again? But they must cost something fierce."

"Glamorous nieces don't arrive every day," I told her, evading her comment. It was not the time, I thought, to tell her that, resentful of the profiteering in all food lines, especially the delicacies, I was ordering for our everyday menus, only plain, wholesome, nutritious, foods, as cheaply priced as the hotel afforded.

"About Noel," Mary began as we sat waiting for room service. "I simply didn't dare let him know I was coming. He and his father would have got those MD's on the telephone, and had them put me in a strait jacket. And, of course, if I didn't let him know, I couldn't let his family know. But I knew you'd stand by and help me think up what's best to do."

"I wish I knew," I said worriedly. "I don't want to hurt Noel's feelings."

"Nor do I," she said. "He's been so bully through all this."

The knocker punctuated her sentence, and I looked at her with consternation in my eyes.

"That isn't room service," I said. "I know the knock of every waiter here."

HOW TO TORTURE YOUR WIFE By H. T. Webster

OH, WARREN, I SAW THE LOVELIEST MOVIE THIS AFTERNOON. IT WAS ABOUT A COUPLE OF OLD FOLKS WHO HAD BEEN MARRIED 45 YEARS. HE WAS SO SWEET AND THOUGHTFUL — SHOWERED HER WITH THE LITTLE ATTENTIONS THAT WOMEN LOVE. REALLY, YOU'D HAVE THOUGHT THEY WERE BRIDE AND GROOM. EVERY TIME HE ENTERED THE HOUSE HE BROUGHT SOME NICE LITTLE PRESENT FOR ANGEL — THAT'S WHAT HE CALLED HER. IT WAS JUST DARLING
